Neville Romps For First Win In AA Playoffs

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

SPRINGHILL — Sticking to power on the ground, and putting an end to a serious Springhill passing attack, Neville's Tigers rolled to a 25-7 victory over the Lumberjacks in their first Class AA playoff game here Friday night.

The district 2-AA title holders, and leaders in the double-A polls all year, are scheduled to meet Jennings next Friday night in the state semifinals. Jennings trounced Pineville 34-7 in another bidistrict encounter.

The Tigers scored in each quarter.

SCORE TWICE

Fullback Don Johnson and halfback Gary Pappas both scored twice, accounting for all Neville touchdowns. Johnson got both of his tallies from one yard out in the first and fourth quarters, while Pappas went across from the four in the final stanza and from the three in the second.

The victory was the 23rd consecutive for the Tigers, who are seeking their second straight AA championship.

Neville was faced with the passing attack of Lumberjack quarterback Wayne Sessions, who, though short, though effective, aerobatics throughout the night, to complete its mission.

GOAL OF PROBE

That mission is to pass within about 20,000 miles of the earth's circumference, plus a hard blocking sputnik planet, and get a closer look — through instrument readings — of what things are like on the Venetian surface, obscured by clouds.

Sessions rarely attempted any passes, but connected with earth observers by a mantle of halfback Jerry Miller for a 39-yarder for the only Springhill score in the third quarter. Rod power from one of two solar panels for the second time in its three-month flight. It was 17.6 million miles from earth when it happened. Enough power is being created from solar energy by cells on the remaining panel to carry out the mission.

The Tigers took advantage of their speedy backfield to easily outdistance the backs on several occasions, plus a hard blocking sputnik planet, and get a closer look — through instrument readings — of what things are like on the Venetian surface, obscured by clouds.

Miller for the only Springhill score in the third quarter. Rod power from one of two solar panels for the second time in its three-month flight. It was 17.6 million miles from earth when it happened. Enough power is being created from solar energy by cells on the remaining panel to carry out the mission.

It had happened before. On Oct. 31 power suddenly dropped, and it was believed there was a short-circuit in the panel. The power-consuming scientific experiments were turned off, while experts studied the problem.

They were about to turn the experiments back on — convinced the remaining panel would provide enough power — when the disabled panel suddenly snapped back to life, as mysteriously as it had faded. That was on Nov. 7.

Temperatures in the space probe are getting hotter, the closer the probe gets to the sun and Venus. They range from 200 degrees Fahrenheit on the sunward face of the solar panels to 100 degrees toward the shady side in a five-inch fall, and closed a five-inch fall, and closed a cone rural schools in west central Minnesota.

Twin City officials reported traffic "tied up in knots" at Minneapolis and St. Paul. Police said there was an outburst of "fender-bender" accidents.

Several jurors reported they could not get to the Hennepin County District Court in Minneapolis.

Winds of more than 50 miles an hour whipped $30,000 worth of Christmas decorations at Sioux City, Iowa. Behind the snow storm, the mercury dipped to 4 below zero at Butte, Mont., and one above at Bozeman, Mont.

Freezing weather pushed deep into the South, into southern Alabama and Georgia. The mercury plunged to 31 at dawn in Elizabethtown, N.C., compared to a balmy 65 at sunrise Thursday.

Two persons died in separate accidents in Minnesota when their cars went out of control on icy highways and skidded into trucks.

Five inches of snow fell at Moline, Minn., four inches at St. Cloud, Minn., and Deadwood, S.D., and three inches at Watertown, S.D. Two-inch falls were reported at Lemmon and Aberdeen, S.D.

As the snow pushed eastward, forecasters predicted accumulations up to six inches or more in Michigan.

The Midwest's first big snow storm of the season Friday dumped up to eight inches of snow on Minnesota. An unseasonable cold blast struck deep into Dixie.

The storm bowled across South Dakota and Minnesota toward the Great Lakes. It piled an eight-inch snowfall on Willmar, Minn., left Minneapolis and St. Paul bogged in a five-inch fall, and closed some rural schools in west-central Minnesota.

2-Step Tax Slash Plan Under Study

Kennedy Regime Quietly Testing Solons' Reaction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration has worked out tentatively a double-action tax proposal for the new session of Congress, and is quietly testing the reaction of key members.

The package, it was learned Friday, would be presented by President Kennedy as a single bill to be enacted in 1963 but would take effect in these two steps:

1. A substantial but partial tax cut to be effective retroactively to Jan. 1, 1963.
2. A second stage, to become effective Jan. 1, 1964, including a further tax reduction and the tax revisions and loop-hole closings wanted by Kennedy.

AMOUNT SECRET

By combining the two steps in one bill, even the initial tax cut would not take effect until the reforms were written into law. Yet the economy would have the stimulative benefit of a year's tax reduction before the revisions — partly offsetting the revenue losses — came into force.

The amount of the rate reductions and the kind of revisions under consideration remained a well-guarded secret. The President's labor-management advisory committee has recommended $10-billion reduction.

Among the congressmen soundest out is Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark. He is the most influential voice on the tax question at this stage, because he heads the House Ways and Means Committee which originates revenue legislation.

The administration's tentative proposal was carried personally to Mills at his home in Arkansas by Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

Mills has been described by colleagues as opposing any "quickie" tax reduction which would greatly increase the already large federal deficit in the absence of a real economic emergency, such as the threat of a serious recession, and also as opposing even a more deliberate cut unless it is accompanied by revisions that would broaden the tax base and tap revenue sources which have not been contributing their full share of federal income.

SURVEY NEEDS

The Americans arrived aboard C-130 transports placed on loan to India as U.S. and British officials, including American fact-finding mission Chief Averell Harriman, began an on-the-spot survey of India's defense requirements.

An Indian communiqué disclosed that the Chinese Communists lost nearly half of their attack force killed or wounded in a two-battalion assault on Indian positions around Chusul Airport on the northwest front this week shortly before the Reds ordered the cease-fire.

A defense spokesman said the Indian army still was patrolling and remained "in contact" with the Chinese Communist along the cease-fire line on the northeast frontier.

The spokesman declined to define what was meant by "contact" but Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told parliament that there had been no shooting and the Red Chinese advances since the Red ordered the cease fire.

In a message read at a youth rally here Friday night, Nehru predicted anew that India was in a prolonged conflict with Red China. In an oblique reference to the Red cease-fire move, he said: "We must not imagine the struggle will be over soon because of various diplomatic moves."

"A number of subjects relating to Cuba are still pending and this shipping order is one of them," he told newsmen.

Proxmire said that as matters stand now, shipments from Communist nations are freed to go to Cuba in ships which used U.S. ports and carried American foreign aid shipments on return voyages.

Proxmire said he was "baffled by the failure of the President to put the October proposal into effect. It is time for action on this now or at the very least, a clearer explanation of why the administration has not acted."

Probe Starts Of Disaster In Maryland

ELICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — A United Air Lines Viscount, approaching Washington National Airport on a routine flight in sunny weather from Newark, plunged suddenly to earth on a farm near here Friday, killing all 17 aboard.

The mysterious crash took the lives of 13 passengers and four crew members. All but four of the passengers were United employees including a Los Angeles-based captain and two stewards.

DROPS, EXPLODES

The plane, flight 297, had just been cleared to final approach at National Airport when disappeared from the radar scope. Seconds later, it dropped like a runaway elevator into a wooded area and exploded. The estimated time of the crash was 12:30 p.m. EST.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) rushed 10 investigators to the scene. Before they lay charred wreckage, bodies and a baleful of conflicting statements from eyewitnesses. One early report had the plane exploding in the air but later accounts told of some kind of engine trouble.

Only one thing was clear in the early stages of the investigation—the blue and white British-made prop-jet came down almost vertically.

JFK, British Leader Plan Early Meet

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy plans to meet soon with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for their sixth high-level conference since Kennedy took office, it was said.

The Anglo-American chiefs may get together next month.

CONFIRM PLANS

The White House confirmed that prospects for the conference were "highly probable." Acting Press Secretary Andrew T. Hatchett declined to speculate on a date other than to say "sometime soon."

In London, diplomatic sources said Macmillan probably would fly to Washington late next month during the Christmas recess of the House of Commons. The sources said Macmillan also may arrange to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris after his meeting with Kennedy.

Macmillan and Kennedy last met in Washington in April of this year.

Strong prospects for a Kennedy-Macmillan meeting came to light after the Chief Executive spent a busy morning in conference with his top military, diplomatic advisers on a number of matters ranging from the Cuban situation to the defense budget for fiscal 1964.

The President met with the NSC group for an hour, then spent another hour conferring on the defense budget. Then he held another meeting, this time only 15 minutes, with the NSC group and the officials departed for Washington at 12:40 p.m. EST.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the NSC committee and the President joined in a round-up of the Cuban situation. John J. McCloy, chief of a special Cuban crisis coordinating team, said of the overall situation, "We're making progress."

Former Red's Airmen To Gain Freedom After Murder Case Cleared

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP) blurted out a dramatic confession story would be confirmed. Authorities said Friday they to the rape slaying of a housewife, "I knew I didn't do it," he was just hoping that he was another man's airman husband, son, 24, of San Diego, Calif., who was in the county jail once signed a statement that he had killed Alice, 30, came home the morning of April 10 to find his wife slashed to death near the front door. Her son, a 10-year-old boy, was lying dead in her arms. She had been stabbed nine times and raped.

Drug Is Reported To Be Causing More Deformities

NEW YORK (UPI) — Doctors on two continents Friday checked reports that the appetite-suppressing drug preludin could cause birth defects similar to those by thalidomide.

A spokesman for the firm that manufactured the drug in the United States said that approximately 500,000 pregnant American women had taken it in the last six years, but the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in Washington reported it had found no deformed births due to its use.

The concern over the use of preludin by pregnant women came after the College of General Practitioners said in London that some drugs taken by mothers during early pregnancy could be causing deformed births. The College of General Practitioners told the Health Ministry

Red Chinese Shift Soviet, India Envoys

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China announced Friday it was reshuffling ambassadors in its two most sensitive diplomatic posts—Moscow and New Delhi—in a surprise move apparently linked with the border crisis with India and its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The official New China News Agency said China's ambassador to India, Pan Tzu-li, had been "relieved" of his post and reassigned as ambassador to Moscow. In Moscow, Pan will replace Liu Hsiao, who left the Soviet capital about a month ago. The Communist report, monitored here, did not say whether Liu had been reassigned.

No replacement was announced for Pan's New Delhi post.

The moves were considered highly significant in that they occurred at a time when China was waging a cold war with Russia and a border conflict with India.

Both Pan and Liu have had to bear the brunt of Indian and Russian ire.

Pan's position in New Delhi has been particularly uncomfortable as well as hazardous. He and his staff have been threatened by demonstrating Indians angered over China's border invasion. The Indian government has placed tight restrictions on the operation of the Chinese Embassy there.

There were no indications, however, that Pan's transfer without a replacement being announced was a prelude to an open diplomatic break with India.

Liu's position in Moscow also had been difficult. The Chinese and the Soviets have been locked in a bitter ideological battle involving leadership of the Communist world. Liu's formal removal—Peking had been represented by a charge d'affaires in Moscow in recent weeks—came at a time when this struggle was being openly waged at the Hungarian Communist Party congress in Budapest.

Wives Of U.S. Envoys To Get Special Course

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department's Foreign Service Institute announced Friday a new training program aimed at making U.S. diplomats' wives better representatives of America abroad.

Mary Vance Trent, a career diplomat and director of the institute's new two-week course, said the aim is to instruct the wives of U.S. officials going to foreign posts so that "America will be well and increasingly served abroad."

The institute's main job is teaching languages and other courses to foreign service officers. Officials of other U.S. government agencies who are assigned abroad also attend.

The two-week, voluntary course, labeled "Overseas Assignment: A Course for Wives," has drawn 30 students for its first run which starts next Monday.

The course covers a variety of topics ranging from American government to contemporary art in this country. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart is scheduled for a lecture on civil rights "because that is right on the firing line" in questions asked of Americans overseas, Miss Trent said.

She said that while the husband goes off to his office, the wife in a foreign country often establishes person-to-person contacts more quickly because of her marketing and other duties which bring her into direct contact with the people.

New Hospital Gas Mains Scheduled

New gas mains are being provided for West Monroe's Glenwood Hospital in a $14,000 project announced Friday by United Gas District Manager J. S. Cage. Approximately 4280 feet of three inch lines are being replaced by six inch lines. Lateral lines of two and four inches are being laid. Increased need at the hospital and in nearby subdivisions was given as the reason.

In New York, the city Health Department said that it too, was investigating the reports which started in a recent British medical journal. Two British doctors wrote in the journal that a woman who twice took preludin during the first month of two pregnancies gave birth to two infants who were discovered to have ruptured diaphragms. They said both babies died.

In Paris, French Academy of Medicine was urged to warn doctors about giving any kind of drug—particularly tranquilizers—to pregnant women.

In Italy, the Italian Health Ministry provisionally banned the sale of preludin pending further studies. In West Germany, the manufacturers of the drug warned pregnant women not to use preludin.

At the same time, a Swedish doctor said the drug thalidomide also may have had harmful effects on adults as well as unborn infants. Dr. Torsten Hafstrom, head of the Southern Hospital, said 10 adults who regularly used thalidomide had been treated at the hospital. They have complained of numbness and reduced sensibility in the arms and legs, discoloring of the palms and soles of their feet and pain and cramps he said.

Prime Minister Nehru may well be remembering the words of Winston Churchill, "Give us the tools" to do the job.

India's leaders are confessing their mistakes, and their misjudgment of Communist intentions.

One of the world's largest agglomerations of people shows signs of becoming a nation, conscious of both power and responsibility. If this new sense of responsibility includes an end to her quarrel with Pakistan as well as resistance to Communist aggression, then a page full of portent will have been turned in the history of Asia.

Although smaller than Red China, India has a considerably more sophisticated industrial development and, with the aid of the United States and the Commonwealth,

Former Red's Airmen To Gain Freedom After Murder Case Cleared

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP) — Authorities said Friday they will free a young airman held for seven months on a charge of murder because another man story would be confirmed.

"I knew I didn't do it," he said. "Somebody had to do it. I was just hoping that he was telling the truth."

Mr. Johnson's airman husband, Alec, 30, came home the morning of April 10 to find his wife slashed and his pajama-clad son lying dead in her arms. She had been stabbed nine times and raped.

Anderson's trial had been postponed until Jan. 21 at the request of his court-appointed attorneys.

His wife, the former Jane Murray of Ogden, Utah, remained here. But their three daughters, ages 6, 3 and 1, were sent to San Bernardino, Calif., to stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Anderson.

Dickie, originally from Marinette, Wis., had served time in the New Mexico prison.

He came to this area last February, married a 13-year-old girl but was estranged when he was arrested in Boise on a burglary charge. He escaped for a few hours and said he was strangled, then raped 10-year-old Carolyn Oldham Reitan of Boise. He said he didn't know why.

WEAR FACE HOODS*Four Bandits Rob Firm Of $50,000

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — Four masked bandits obtained $50,770 in cash Friday in a daylight robbery at the Armour and Company packing plant here.

The precise execution of the holdup, consummated in less than one minute, immediately aroused speculation that it was the work of the same gang which obtained $70,000 in a recent bank robbery here.

"If they are the same men," a detective said, "it means a highly skilled group of pros is operating here and that they have scored a take of at least $120,000 in the last two months."

The latest haul was money with which the Armour Credit Union intended to cash payroll checks which were distributed Friday.

William M. Gilliam, 60, credit union manager, and a Pinkerton guard, Louis Leimen, obtained the cash at the nearby Kaw Valley bank. When they re-entered the plant through a side door, the bandits were waiting in a stairwell off a narrow hall. A Pinkerton guard, John Holzapfel, lay on the floor.

As they left, one of the robbers fired a pistol at Leimen from a distance of about eight feet. Police said the pistol apparently contained a blank cartridge, intended to discourage pursuit.

The men fled through the main lobby of the plant.

Conservatives Lose 2 Seats In British Vote

LONDON (UPI) — The ruling Conservative Party lost two of five parliamentary by-elections in a voting pattern that political observers Friday called a near-disaster for Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Macmillan still commands a solid majority in the House of Commons, but the final results from Thursday's five by-election contests, in which Macmillan's Tories were incumbents, continued the upsurge of the opposition Labor and Liberal parties which began early this year.

Results announced Friday at South Northants gave Conservative candidate Arthur Jones a 14,921 to 14,004 victory over his Labor opponent Ivor Wilde. This 917-vote margin compares with the 5,934 votes with which the Tories carried the district in the 1959 general elections.

A recount in Norfolk Central confirmed Tory Ian Gilmour's 220-vote victory over Labor's Geoffrey Bennett. The previous conservative majority was 6,787. In other results, the Conservatives lost a long-head seat in South Dorset and in Woodside (Glasgow) and barely held on in Chippingham.

HENDERSON, Tex. (UPI) — took him out to begin serving his sentence in the county jail.

The sheriff can reduce the sentence 30 days for good behavior. Daniels did not pay his $500 fine immediately. He must stay in jail until he pays the fine.

Daniels' church was at nearby Tatum, Tex. He and Flora Jean, who now plan to be married, left together after a high school football game Nov. 2. They were arrested in Wichita, Kan., Wednesday.

Flora Jean's father has consented to a wedding as soon as Daniels' bride of four months can get a divorce. Mrs. Daniels has asked for a divorce and Daniels has signed papers giving his consent.

The 30-pound Flora Jean time and again has asserted her love for him.

U.N. Is Spy Haven

What does the United States get out of the United Nations? What good does it do us? What harm does it do us? These questions, which are especially pertinent in the aftermath of the recent "hot" crisis in Cuba, take a lot of answering. Boiled down, it appears we are getting mighty little good out of the United Nations, it is costing us a lot to pay our share and the shares of other nations to keep it going and it makes an ideal nesting place for spies.

Do we wonder why the communist bloc tried, year after year, to obtain a United Nations membership card for Red China? There are many reasons but one of the most important can be found in the shattering of a Cuban espionage and sabotage ring in New York recently.

Three of the five Cubans involved in the conspiracy were working under the cover of United Nations jobs. By being attached to the United Nations and stationed in the United States, foreign spies of most of the nations throughout the world are given a license to ferret out United States military and defense secrets and to plan sabotage and espionage, including mass murder and destruction of property. They are given diplomatic immunity, which means that, even if they are caught, they cannot be punished. All we can do is order them back home. That hardly disturbs the nations involved for all they have to do is send over new agents who are also immune.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation succeeded, fortunately in preventing the Cubans from killing dozens or hundreds of American citizens by bombing Christmas shopping crowds, as they reportedly intended to do, but it could not lay a hand on two of the saboteurs because of their diplomatic immunity. One participant in this plot, hatched in the halls of the United Nations, was subject to arrest only because his application for diplomatic status was pending.

Certainly, Red China, which probably is second only to Russia in the number of spies it has swarming in other countries, would like to have the same opportunity that Russia and Cuba enjoy to plant spies and saboteurs on United States soil.

If the United Nations was of any value to the United States in the imbroglio over Cuba it was certainly not apparent to most observers. U.N. Secretary U Thant ran over to Cuba and spent some time talking to Puppet Dictator Fidel Castro, as if he thought Castro had some real say-so in the matter, while everyone else knew that Castro was on a string pulled by Nikita Khrushchev of Russia and that if Castro was talking tough he was doing it only because Khrushchev told him to and would quit as soon as he received orders to do so.

U Thant seemed to want to prevent the United States from doing anything "rash" when everyone knew that, for the safety of the United States, it was imperative to tell Russia to get its offensive weapons out of Cuba.

Most of us have not forgotten that after congress hung back on the question of buying $100 million in United Nations bonds to pay the membership fees of delinquent nations, largely communist, the New Frontier administration went through a back door, without the consent of congress, and gave the United Nations some $215 million to pay off the delinquent memberships.

If anyone in the United States expected the United Nations to do anything of value to the United States in the Cuban crisis, it must have been U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, who wants to turn this country over to the United Nations.

Even President Kennedy, who has listened to Stevenson while he should have been listening to our military leaders and acting to prevent the Russian buildup in Cuba, was too wise to think we would get any real help from the United Nations. What most people were afraid of was that the United Nations would "mess up the works" for us and that the American administration would fall for it.

There was far more fear that the United Nations would endanger and hurt our cause than there was hope that it would do us any good.

In summary, about all we can say for the United Nations is that it is doing our country more harm than good, that it is the world's most serious threat to our sovereignty, that we are paying the lion's share of the costs of operating it, that it appears more favorable to the communists than to the free world and that it offers a haven for spies in this country.

New Euromart Law

Since the establishment of the European Common Market, in which the United States hopes to participate to some extent, movements are underway for enacting certain new laws that would apply to all affected countries.

Among these is a suggestion which ties in with efforts to avert another international drug disaster. The sweeping new proposal is being urged by the Union of European Women, a prestigious 700-member federation of Europe's leading women lawyers, scientists, high-ranking civil workers and so on. This union proposes an "all-European" drug law which would put the testing and approval of all new drugs into the hands of a single European authority. The union, which enjoys government support in 11 continental nations, has begun an all-out campaign to establish an international drug-control agency.

A principal argument of the union is that strict national laws governing drug distribution are virtually useless, since the present age of easy travel makes it impossible to keep dangerous drugs out of widespread international circulation and that so long as a single European country lets such drugs be marketed, any globe-trotter from another nation may be exposed to it, bring it home and thus spread the hazard across national boundaries.

Under the plan, the inter-European authority preferably would be set up under the European Common Market organization. While there are certain obvious legal difficulties which would have to be surmounted, drug industry insiders abroad are predicting that drug legislation along the union's suggested lines probably will be the first piece of non-economic law and will pave the way to a series of Euromart pure food and drug measures.

The whole world movement seems to be toward enactment of federal laws which bring a complete clampdown, but it is still debatable whether that system is as good as laws enacted by local or state authorities.

Ninety-two per cent of commercial timberlands owned by forest industries is used for hunting.

President Kennedy this month will launch probably the most ambitious do-it-yourself project ever undertaken in the history of this country.

The Chief Executive on November 29th will appear over a nationwide closed circuit "live" telecast to plug for the establishment of a $30 million National Cultural Center.

Plans call for the huge edifice dedicated to the performing arts to be located on a 13-acre site on the banks of the Potomac River in the Nation's Capital.

Acute Gastritis

Is Formal Name For Rather Informal And Common Ailment

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: What is meant by acute gastritis? Is it serious? — Mr. H.

Comment: It is a formal name for a rather informal and common ailment which usually goes by the name of upset stomach.

The causes are, of course, many. Fever alone can do it. It can be a part of symptoms of serious illness like failing kidneys, or an attack of coronary thrombosis.

Ordinarily an uncomplaining organism, the stomach sometimes reminds us that it doesn't like to be taken for granted — and kicks over the traces when least expected. For example, you may be an habitual overeater and get away with it 99 times out of a hundred. But comes the time the stomach may show its resentment at being overloaded by bringing symptoms of nausea and vomiting. Sometimes the intestines join in the revolt and the patient also has diarrhea.

In like manner, oversmoking may occasionally cause acute gastritis, more commonly, so may too many alcoholic drinks. There are times when the walls of the stomach lining at a certain food to which they are allergic. So the stomach tries to expel it. Some people with especially sensitive stomachs get acute gastritis if they drink ice water, others if they take especially hot drinks. There are patients who get an upset stomach when they take simple medicines which have no bad effect on other people.

The basic treatment is simple: give the overburdened or insulted stomach a rest. Fasting for at least a day — taking occasional hot teas sometimes with dry toast — is the best of all treatments.

Simple acute gastritis should not last more than a few hours. If stomach pain, nausea and vomiting occur in the early morning hours, for example, don't go getting medical help if the symptoms haven't cleared up for the most part by afternoon.

It's normal to feel "washed out" after a siege of vomiting, nausea and diarrhea — but it isn't normal for the acute discomfort to last too many hours.

I haven't mentioned medicines to take; if you need them, they will be in your doctor's jurisdiction. For the most part, as I have said, all you need to do for the ordinary upset stomach (acute gastritis) is to give the stomach a long-needed rest.

HOW MUCH DIGITALIS?

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: Is it all right to take digitalis for months? — Mrs. T.

Comment: Under your doctor's care it is all right to take it for years. All right? It's almost like asking if it's all right to put Mickey Mantle in the clean-up spot. Digitalis is champion which has kept many sick hearts beating for years. In a clutch, it has saved many lives.

People have got the idea that digitalis is a dangerous drug. Like any other potent drug, it may be potentially harmful. But also, like any other, it is helpful and harmless when taken in the right amounts and carefully checked.

IT HAPPENED IN BERLIN —

One of the latest "small world" episodes took place last month at the 1962 convention of the Society of American Travel Editors in Berlin. At one of the sessions, two women writers struck up a discussion of American politics while waiting for the program to commence. The discussion soon touched on the late Senator Sam Rayburn and his enormous influence over the Congress for almost half a century.

"One of the most beautiful tributes to Mr. Rayburn I ever read appeared in Diplomat Magazine soon after his death," said one of the two delegates, Mrs. James R. Young, travel editor of a South Carolina daily.

"I could hug you for that remark," rejoined the other. "I wrote that piece."

"What's your name?" asked the somewhat incredulous South Carolinian.

"Hope Ridings Miller," the other replied.

Mrs. Miller, editor-in-chief of the Diplomat, was thoroughly familiar with her subject. A native Texan, she grew up in Sherman near Speaker Rayburn's beloved Bonham and had known him since she was a little girl.

Viewers in 150 cities from coast to coast will pay up to $100 a plate for dinners or $5 and $10 for seats in theaters and auditoriums.

Since a basic purpose for the Center is to encourage American artists in their home communities as well as nationally, half the funds raised by this telecast will be left in the sponsoring communities for their own artistic projects.

President and Mrs. Kennedy will appear on this two-hour show. Leonard Bernstein will be host and Robert Sandoe producer. The cast will read like a Who's Who of the performing arts.

Viewers in 150 cities from coast to coast will pay up to $100 a plate for dinners or $5 and $10 for seats in theaters and auditoriums.

Why do Republicans, particularly conservative Republicans, argue so strongly for limited government? This question was put to me recently by a college student straining to define the differences between the Republican and Democratic Parties. I believe it is an important question, the answer to which is too often obscured by the hasty talk of partisan politics.

To me, limited government is the heart precept upon which this great nation was founded. The men who framed our Constitution wisely stipulated certain institutions, human relations and activities which the federal government might not infringe or violate. Throughout history, government has proved to be the chief instrument for thwarting man's liberty. Government represents power in the hands of those who control and regulate the lives of citizens. And power is like poison and corrupts man. "Absolute power corrupts absolutely," is the lesson.

Republican Party objectives, to my way of thinking, represent exactly the principles set forth by the Constitution: the prevention of great concentrations of power in the hands of a few who might abuse it.

The dangerous drift of our government away from personal freedom — toward the welfare state, toward oligarchs who are seeking all-powerful centralized government — is very strong today. We Republicans want to make it clear to the public the freedom of each citizen and to keep the federal government from gobbling up both his money and his liberty.

Our representatives were never greater nor the need for our efforts more desperate. For already in this era of a steady deadly drift to the left, much of our freedom has been snatched by the federal government. The need for a in cutting to size some business enterprises when it was apparent they had reached monopolistic proportions. So, on the other side of the coin, it is argued that if some union organizations reach the point that they are giant monopolies harmful to the public good, why should they be treated differently from business monopolies?

The Martin bill would revise the Sherman Act to forbid industry-wide bargaining power and prohibit restrictive practices in production or distribution as illegal restraints of trade. It would also allow the National Labor Relations Board to certify unions for industry-wide strike.

In the big AFL-CIO there is a show down in the making between President George Meany and United Auto Workers Chief Walter Reuther over the filling of a vacancy on the executive council.

Reuther has thrown his support behind Ralph Helstern, president of the United Packing House Workers Union, and, in effect, placed his future on the block. Meany, on the other hand, has vigorously opposed Helstern because of alleged left-wing activities of his man Meany and Reuther said they would resolve the dispute after Reuther returns from a tour of Japan.

But this is only part of Reuther's troubles. In the past several weeks aerospace workers at both North American Aviation and the Convair Division of General Dynamics rejected a union-shop proposal by the United Auto Workers. This means they declined to accept an arrangement under which a worker must join the union representing the company's employees within a specific period after he is hired.

Whether this trend continues remains, of course, to be seen. But it does tend to weaken labor's claim that the attitude of management toward such arrangements is thwarting the will of a vast majority of employees.

Unsettled at this point is what will happen in right-to-work states if workers in aerospace plants vote for closed shop contracts.

The Kennedy Administration has been severely criticized for dictating labor-management settlements in five right-to-work states which now have aerospace and related plants. These include Texas, Georgia, North Carolina, Florida and Alabama.

The aerospace industry has fought the closed shop. A Presidential commission, however, has come out in favor of the closed shop principle if it is voted by two-thirds of the workers in a plant. The President's strong support of this finding has forced some companies to go along since they depend so heavily on government contracts.

On the matter of bringing unions under anti-trust law a number of bills already have been introduced in Congress. Some of the authors include Sen. John Tower of Texas and Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, and Reps. Bruce Alger and Clark Fisher of Texas and Dave Martin of Nebraska. Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate labor rackets committee, is interested in such legislation.

U.N. Is Spy Haven

What does the United States get out of the United Nations? What good does it do us? What harm does it do us? These questions, which are especially pertinent in the aftermath of the recent "hot" crisis in Cuba, take a lot of answering. Boiled down, it appears we are getting mighty little good out of the United Nations, it is costing us a lot to pay our share and the shares of other nations to keep it going and it makes an ideal nesting place for spies.

Do we wonder why the communist bloc tries, year after year, to obtain a United Nations membership card for Red China? There are many reasons but one of the most important can be found in the shattering of a Cuban espionage and sabotage ring in New York recently.

Three of the five Cubans involved in the conspiracy were working under the cover of United Nations jobs. By being attached to the United Nations and stationed in the United States, foreign spies of most of the nations throughout the world are given a license to ferret out United States military and defense secrets and to plan sabotage and espionage, including mass murder and destruction of property.

They are given diplomatic immunity, which means that, even if they are caught, they cannot be punished. All we can do is order them back home. That hardly disturbs the nations involved for all they have to do is send over new agents who are also immune.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation succeeded, fortunately in preventing the Cubans from killing dozens or hundreds of American citizens by bombing Christmas shopping crowds, as they reportedly intended to do, but it could not lay a hand on two of the saboteurs because of their diplomatic immunity. One participant in this plot, hatched in the halls of the United Nations, was subject to arrest only because his application for diplomatic status was pending.

Certainly, Red China, which probably is second only to Russia in the number of spies it has swarming in other countries, would like to have the same opportunity that Russia and Cuba enjoy to plant spies and saboteurs on United States soil.

If the United Nations was of any value to the United States in

New Euromart Law

Since the establishment of the European Common Market, in which the United States hopes to participate to some extent, movements are underway for enacting certain new laws that would apply to all affected countries.

Among these is a suggestion which ties in with efforts to avert another international drug disaster. The sweeping new proposal is being urged by the Union of European Women, a prestigious 700-member federation of Europe's leading women lawyers, scientists, high-ranking civil workers and so on. This union proposes an "all-European" drug law which would put the testing and approval of all new drugs into the hands of a single European authority. The union, which enjoys government support in 11 continental nations, has begun an all-out campaign to establish an international drug-control agency.

A principal argument of the union is that strict national laws governing drug distribution are virtually useless, since the present age of easy travel makes it impossible to keep dangerous drugs out of widespread international circulation and that so long as a single European country lets such drugs be marketed, any globe-trotter from another nation may be exposed to it, bring it home and thus spread the hazard across national

the imbroglio over Cuba it was certainly not apparent to most observers. U.N. Secretary U Thant ran over to Cuba and spent some time talking to Puppet Dictator Fidel Castro, as if he thought Castro had some real say-so in the matter, while everyone else knew that Castro was on a string pulled by Nikita Khrushchev of Russia and that if Castro was talking tough he was doing it only because Khrushchev told him to and would quit as soon as he received orders to do so. U Thant seemed to want to prevent the United States from doing anything "rash" when everyone knew that, for the safety of the United States, it was imperative to tell Russia to get its offensive weapons out of Cuba.

Most of us have not forgotten that after congress hung back on the question of buying $100 million in United Nations bonds to pay the membership fees of delinquent nations, largely communist, the New Frontier administration went through a back door, without the consent of congress, and gave the United Nations some $215 million to pay off the delinquent memberships.

If anyone in the United States expected the United Nations to do anything of value to the United States in the Cuban crisis, it must have been U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, who wants to turn this country over to the United Nations. Even President Kennedy, who has listened to Stevenson while he should have been listening to our military leaders and acting to prevent the Russian buildup in Cuba, was too wise to think we would get any real help from the United Nations. What most people were afraid of was that the United Nations would "mess up the works" for us and that the American administration would fall for it. There was far more fear that the United Nations would endanger and hurt our cause than there was hope that it would do us any good.

In summary, about all we can say for the United Nations is that it is doing our country more harm than good, that it is the world's most serious threat to our sovereignty, that we are paying the lion's share of the costs of operating it, that it appears more favorable to the communists than to the free world and that it offers a haven for spies in this country.

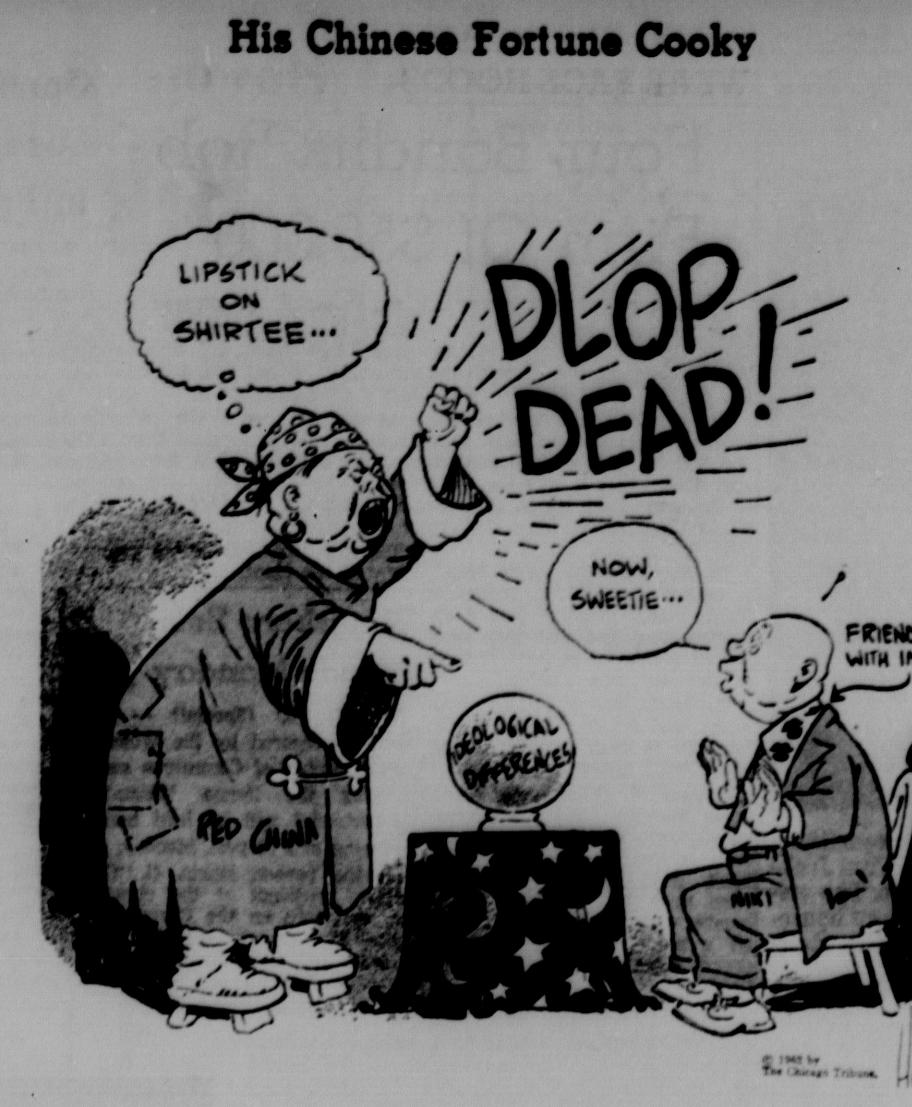

Under the plan, the inter-European authority preferably would be set up under the European Common Market organization. While there are certain obvious legal difficulties which would have to be surmounted, drug industry insiders abroad are predicting that drug legislation along the union's suggested lines probably will be the first piece of non-economic law and will pave the way to a series of Euromart pure food and drug measures.

The whole world movement seems to be toward enactment of federal laws which bring a complete clampdown, but it is still debatable whether that system is as good as laws enacted by local or state authorities.

American organized labor, in the throes of a bitter leadership fight and set back in its struggle to push a union shop arrangement in the bustling aerospace industry, can expect even more trouble when the new Congress convenes in January.

Here, this country's most outstanding performers will display their talents. Celebrated artists from abroad will find the appropriate setting for their introduction on to American audiences.

Here, also, this country's most promising young artists will be given a chance to display their talents.

Plans for the project are now being outlined by a Program Advisory Committee of distinguished people associated with the arts. They are shaping up a program which will provide a stage established artists and for juniors as well.

To be presented at the National Cultural Center will give an artist distinctive recognition. The Committee envisions a variety of performances ranging from modern theater, Greek tragedy, symphony, ballet, opera to lectures, poetry readings, jazz concerts, folk singing.

The creation of the Cultural Center will be in the best American tradition that anything worth doing should be accomplished through individual and collective efforts.

Congress provided the land but the people who will enjoy the benefits of the center are expected to provide the money for it.

The contributions will demonstrate the people of this country's understanding of the need and aspirations for the future of performing arts in the Nation.

Highlight of the fund raising campaign, which has suffered from lack of publicity, will be the closed - circuit TV spectacle titled "An American Pageant of the Arts."

Viewers in 150 cities from coast to coast will pay up to $100 a plate for dinners or $5 and $10 for seats in theaters and auditoriums.

Car Victim's Funeral Set In Area Today

WINNSBORO (Special) — Funeral services for Leamon C. Shivers, 27, of Winnsboro, will be held 2 p.m. today at Lone Pine Baptist Church near Winnsboro with the Rev. Howard Smith officiating.

Mr. Shivers was killed at 11:10 p.m. Thursday when the car he was driving hit a bridge abutment on La. Hwy. 15 four and one-half miles north of Winnsboro.

The vehicle was demolished with some parts being thrown as far as 50 yards. Dr. Hollis T. Rogers, acting Franklin Parish coroner, ruled death was instant and caused by a fractured skull and other injuries which included compound fractures of the right arm and right leg.

He was employed by H. L. Anderson of Winnsboro as a heavy equipment operator.

Interment will be in Harris Cemetery near Winnsboro under direction of First National Funeral Home of Winnsboro.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Sally Shivers of Winnsboro; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Shivers of Swamper; four sisters, Mrs. Judy Temple of Crowley, Miss Ida Lee Shivers, Miss Ouida Shivers and Miss Darlene Shivers, all of Swamper, and a brother, James Roy Shivers of Swamper.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

JOHNNY PODRES, ace pitcher of the Los Angeles Dodgers, is wooing chorine Mary Zahn of "No Strings" via long distance telephone calls . . . Government insiders have reason to fear that Algeria will pull a Cuba. Anybody who acts surprised hasn't been paying attention . . . Marty Ransahoff, whose Filmways Co. has the top-rated TV series, "Beverly Hillbillies," is expanding his operations into motion pictures in New York as well as in Hollywood — and some of the hottest properties available are within his grasp. In addition, he's pulled quite a coup — enticing 20th Century-Fox's bright drummer, Jack Brodsky, to take charge of his advertising and publicity. Jack is distinguished for having lived through the "Roman Scandal" involving Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton when they were filming "Cleopatra," without losing his head . . .

In just one year on Broadway, "How to Succeed" has grossed $3,900,000 — exactly 10 times its cost, which was $390,000 by the time it opened in New York . . . The Americana Hotel would have you believe that Keely Smith is opening there with a $40,000 wardrobe, which she is having toted in by her troupe of singers and dancers because she's afraid it might be lost or misplaced. (How about having it insured?) I'm perfectly willing to believe Keely has spent $40,000 on duds for her act, but I'd love to have a tape recording of her explaining THAT deduction to the Internal Revenue boys.

HORST BUCHHOLZ' MANAGER and agent are groaning over Darryl Zanuck's decision to hold "Nine Hours to Rama" for Easter release. It eliminates Horst from this year's Oscar race. But Zanuck's probably right: if the picture were released now, with Pandit Nehru in his strange predicament with Red China, it would have an Alice-in-Wonderland quality. In fact, it's hard to imagine how the film can ever regain the impact of the book, because current events have overtaken its message . . . The newspapers should have the "black box scheme" in their headlines before very long. It's a method for detecting underground nuclear bomb tests.

Peter Glenville, the director, has station.

U.N. Is Spy Haven

What does the United States get out of the United Nations? What good does it do us? What harm does it do us? These questions, which are especially pertinent in the aftermath of the recent "hot" crisis in Cuba, take a lot of answering. Boiled down, it appears we are getting mighty little good out of the United Nations, it is costing us a lot to pay our share and the shares of other nations to keep it going and it makes an ideal nesting place for spies.

Do we wonder why the communist bloc tries, year after year, to obtain a United Nations membership card for Red China? There are many reasons but one of the most important can be found in the shattering of a Cuban espionage and sabotage ring in New York recently.

Three of the five Cubans involved in the conspiracy were working under the cover of United Nations jobs. By being attached to the United Nations and stationed in the United States, foreign spies of most of the nations throughout the world are given a license to ferret out United States military and defense secrets and to plan sabotage and espionage, including mass murder and destruction of property. They are given diplomatic immunity, which means that, even if they are caught, they cannot be punished. All we can do is order them back home. That hardly disturbs the nations involved for all they have to do is send over new agents who are also immune.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation succeeded, fortunately in preventing the Cubans from killing dozens or hundreds of American citizens by bombing Christmas shopping crowds, as they reportedly intended to do, but it could not lay a hand on two of the saboteurs because of their diplomatic immunity. One participant in this plot, hatched in the halls of the United Nations, was subject to arrest only because his application for diplomatic status was pending.

Certainly, Red China, which probably is second only to Russia in the number of spies it has swarming in other countries, would like to have the same opportunity that Russia and Cuba enjoy to plant spies and saboteurs on United States soil.

If the United Nations was of any value to the United States in the imbroglio over Cuba it was certainly not apparent to most observers. U.N. Secretary U Thant ran over to Cuba and spent some time talking to Puppet Dictator Fidel Castro, as if he thought Castro had some real say-so in the matter, while everyone else knew that Castro was on a string pulled by Nikita Khrushchev of Russia and that if Castro was talking tough he was doing it only because Khrushchev told him to and would quit as soon as he received orders to do so. U Thant seemed to want to prevent the United States from doing anything "rash" when everyone knew that, for the safety of the United States, it was imperative to tell Russia to get its offensive weapons out of Cuba.

Most of us have not forgotten that after congress hung back on the question of buying $100 million in United Nations bonds to pay the membership fees of delinquent nations, largely communist, the New Frontier administration went through a back door, without the consent of congress, and gave the United Nations some $215 million to pay off the delinquent members.

If anyone in the United States expected the United Nations to do anything of value to the United States in the Cuban crisis, it must have been U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, who wants to turn this country over to the United Nations. Even President Kennedy, who has listened to Stevenson while he should have been listening to our military leaders and acting to prevent the Russian buildup in Cuba, was too wise to think we would get any real help from the United Nations. What most people were afraid of was that the United Nations would "mess up the works" for us and that the American administration would fall for it. There was far more fear that the United Nations would endanger and hurt our cause than there was hope that it would do us any good.

In summary, about all we can say is that the United Nations is that it is doing our country more harm than good, that it is the world's most serious threat to our sovereignty, that we are paying the lion's share of the costs of operating it, that it appears more favorable to the communists than to the free world and that it offers a haven for spies in this country.

New Euromart Law

Since the establishment of the European Common Market, in which the United States hopes to participate to some extent, movements are underway for enacting certain new laws that would apply to all affected countries.

Among these is a suggestion which ties in with efforts to avert another international drug disaster. The sweeping new proposal is being urged by the Union of European Women, a prestigious 700-member federation of Europe's leading women lawyers, scientists, high-ranking civil workers and so on. This union proposes an "all-European" drug law which would put the testing and approval of all new drugs into the hands of a single European authority. The union, which enjoys government support in 11 continental nations, has begun an all-out campaign to establish an international drug-control agency.

A principal argument of the union is that strict national laws governing drug distribution are virtually useless, since the present age of easy travel makes it impossible to keep dangerous drugs out of widespread international circulation and that so long as a single European country lets such drugs be marketed, any globe-trotter from another nation may be exposed to it, bring it home and thus spread the hazard across national boundaries.

Under the plan, the inter-European authority preferably would be set up under the European Common Market organization. While there are certain obvious legal difficulties which would have to be surmounted, drug industry insiders abroad are predicting that drug legislation along the union's suggested lines probably will be the first piece of non-economic law and will pave the way to a series of Euromart pure food and drug measures.

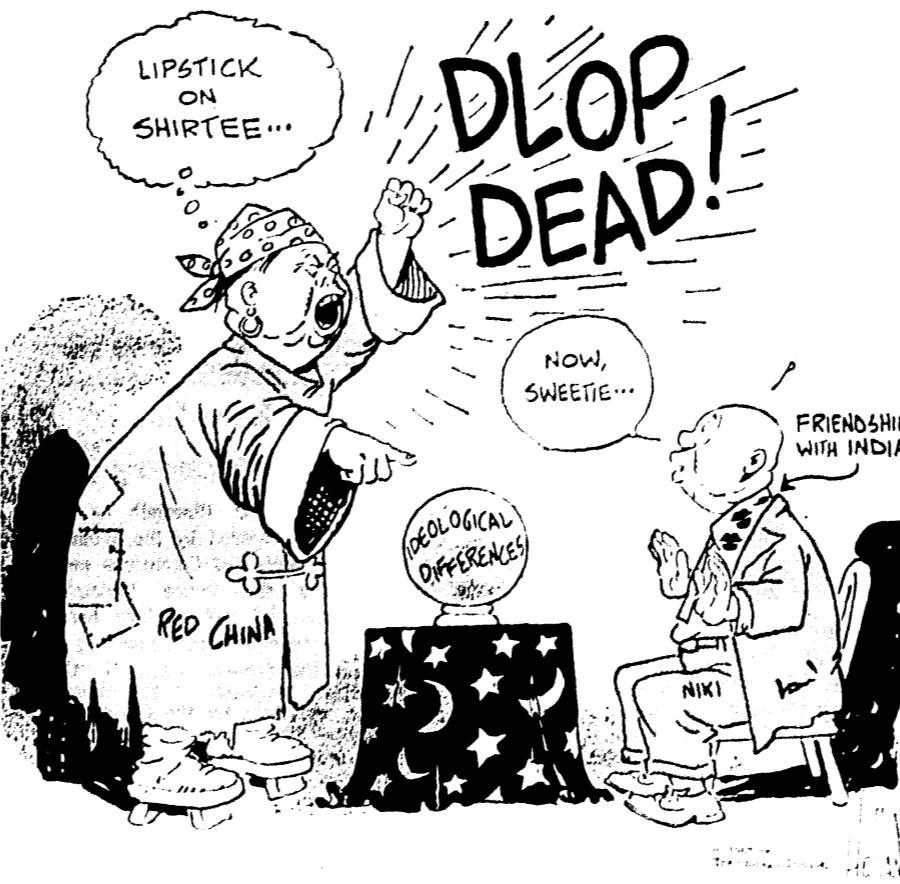

The whole world movement seems to be toward enactment of federal laws which bring a complete clampdown, but it is still debatable whether that system is as good as laws enacted by local or state authorities.

Ninety-two per cent of commercial timberlands owned by forest industries is used for hunting.

Observers along the Kiel Canal, West Germany's 61-mile shortcut between the North and Baltic seas, note that East German shipping has almost vanished.

Brazil shares a common border with all other South American countries except Chile and Ecuador. Only Russia, Canada, China and the United States exceed it in size.

Chief Executive Will Go All Out On Television In Support Of Center Costing $30 Million

President Kennedy this month will launch probably the most ambitious do it yourself projects ever undertaken in the history of this country.

The Chief Executive on November 29th will appear over a nationwide closed circuit "live" telecast to plug for the establishment of a $30 million National Cultural Center.

Plans call for the huge edifice dedicated to the performing arts to be located on a 13-acre site on the banks of the Potomac River in the Nation's Capital.

Congress passed a bill in 1958 donating the land but stipulated that buildings funds for the project would be obtained through public contribution.

The four-year-old proposed center has been slow getting off the ground but its supporters feel there is now a growing enthusiasm for the project and hope with a little push from the President it can become a reality.

Making the Nation's Capital a cultural center as well as the hub of government is as old as the Republic itself. George Washington spoke of it when the Capital was planned.

During the years following the establishment of the capital in Washington, the government continued to grow as did the city's population but its cultural facilities failed to keep pace.

Today some nine million visitors come to the Capital every year. These, plus the two million more who reside in its environs, have no adequate facilities to enjoy the performing arts.

The proposed cultural center has been endorsed not only by President Kennedy but also by former Presidents Hoover, Truman and Eisenhower. Mrs. Eisenhower and Kennedy are honorary co-chairmen of the governing body dedicated to the project.

Acute Gastritis

Is Formal Name For Rather Informal And Common Ailment

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: What is meant by acute gastritis? Is it serious? — Mr. H.

Comment: It is a formal name for a rather informal and common ailment which usually goes by the name of upset stomach.

The causes are, of course, many. Fever alone can do it. It can be a part of symptoms of serious illness like fading kidneys, or an attack of coronary thrombosis.

Ordinarily an uncomplaining organ, the stomach sometimes reminds us that it doesn't like to be taken for granted — and kicks over the traces when least expected. For example, you may be an habitual overeater and get away with it 99 times out of a hundred. But comes the time the stomach may show its resentment at being overloaded by bringing symptoms of nausea and vomiting. Sometimes the intestines join in the revolt and the patient also has diarrhea.

In like manner, overeating may occasionally cause acute gastritis; more commonly, so may too many alcoholic drinks.

There are patients who get an upset stomach when they take some medicines which have no bad effect on other people.

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: Is it true that some orthopedists treat

Mickey Mantle in the clean-up spot?

Digitalis is champion which has kept many sick hearts beating for years. In a clutch, it has saved many lives.

People have got the idea that digitalis is a dangerous drug.

Like any other potent drug, it may be potentially harmful. But also like any other, it is helpful and harmless when taken in the right amounts and carefully checked.

Chief Executive Will Go All Out On Television In Support Of Center Costing $30 Million

President Kennedy this month will launch probably the most ambitious do-it-yourself projects ever undertaken in the history of this country.

The Chief Executive on November 29th will appear over a nationwide closed circuit "live" telecast to plug for the establishment of a $30 million National Cultural Center.

Plans call for the huge edifice dedicated to the performing arts to be located on a 13-acre site on the banks of the Potomac River in the Nation's Capital.

Congress passed a bill in 1958 donating the land but stipulated that buildings funds for the project would be obtained through public contribution.

The four - year - old proposed center has been slow getting off the ground but its supporters feel there is now a growing enthusiasm for the project and hope with a little push from the President it can become a reality.

Making the Nation's Capital a cultural center as well as the hub of government is as old as the Republic itself. George Washington spoke of it when the Capital was planned.

During the years following the establishment of the capital in Washington the government continued to grow as did the city's population but its cultural facilities failed to keep pace.

Today some nine million visitors come to the Capital every year. These, plus the two million more who reside in its environs, have no adequate facilities to enjoy the performing arts.

The proposed cultural center has been endorsed not only by President Kennedy but also by former Presidents Hoover, Truman and Eisenhower. Mrs. Eisenhower and Kennedy are honorary co-chairman of the governing body dedicated to the project.

First phase of the project will be construction of three performing halls on the banks of the Potomac. These will be 2,750-seat symphony hall, a 1,200-seat theatre and a 2,500-seat auditorium for opera, ballet and musical comedy. There will be ample room for future expansion.

Here this country's most outstanding performers will display their talents. Celebrated artists from abroad will find the appropriate setting for their introduction to American audiences.

Here, also, this country's most promising young artists will be given a chance to display their talents.

Plans for the project are now being outlined by a Program Advisory Committee of distinguished people associated with the arts. They are shaping up a program which will provide a stage established artists and for juniors as well.

To be presented at the National Cultural Center will give an artist distinctive recognition. The Committee envisions a variety of performances ranging from modern theater, Greek tragedy, symphony, ballet, opera to lectures, poetry readings, jazz concerts, folk singing.

The creation of the Cultural Center will be in the best American tradition that anything worth doing should be accomplished through individual and collective efforts.

Congress provided the land but the people who will enjoy the benefits of the center are expected to provide the money for it.

The contributions will demonstrate the people of this country's understanding of the need and aspirations for the future of performing arts in the Nation. Highlight of the fund raising campaign, which has suffered from lack of publicity, will be the closed - circuit TV spectacle titled "An American Pageant of the Arts."

Viewers in 150 cities from coast to coast will pay up to $100 a plate for dinners or $5 and $10 for seats in theaters and auditoriums.

Since a basic purpose for the Center is to encourage American artists in their home communities as well as nationally, half the funds raised by this telecast will be left in the sponsoring communities for their own artistic projects.

President and Mrs. Kennedy will appear on this two-hour show. Leonard Bernstein will be host and Robert Saudek producer. The cast will read like a Who's Who of the performing arts.

Once the National Cultural Center is a reality, many millions more in additional to the Capital's annual visitors will share in its program — through tours of its outstanding performers and through television, films and tape recordings of their work.

It will provide for the first time a fitting place for outstanding foreign artists to work in the capital, instead of using makeshift stages with inadequate equipment.

Lack of proper facilities in the capital has created the erroneous impression that Americans are indifferent to the arts. The Center — as a symbol of this Nation's excellence — will correct this misconception.

Those who wish to make direct contributions to the Center may send them to: The National Cultural Center, 718 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

By BARRY GOLDWATER

U. S. Senator From Arizona

Why do Republicans, particularly conservative Republicans, argue so strongly for limited government?

This question was put to me recently by a college student striv- ing to define the differences between the Republican and Democratic Parties. I believe it is an important question, the answer to which is too often obscured in the hurly - burly of partisan politics.

To me, limited government is the heart precept upon which this great nation was founded. The men who framed our Constitution wisely stipulated certain institutions, human relations and activities which the federal government might not infringe or violate.

Throughout history, government has proved to be the chief instrument for thwarting man's liberty. Government represents power in the hands of some men to control and regulate the lives of other men. And power, as Lord Acton said, corrupts men. "Absolute power corrupts absolutely," he added.

Republican Party objectives, to my way of thinking, represent exactly the objectives aimed at by the Constitution: the prevention of great concentrations of power in the hands of a few who might abuse it.

The dangerous drift of our government away from personal freedom — toward the welfare state; toward an ultimately wholly socialist, all - powerful central government — is very strong today. We Republicans want to arrest it in order to preserve the freedom of each citizen and to keep the federal government from gobbling up both his money and his liberty.

Our responsibilities were never greater, nor the need for our efforts more desperate. For already in this era of a steady, deadly drift to the left, much of our freedom has been usurped by the federal government. The need for a roll - back of federal authority, and then for the continuance of freedom, constitutes, in my judgment, the overriding challenge of our time for the Republic Part-

Undoubtedly, in our Republican Party, there are good men who would limit more narrowly the extent to which I, as a good Republican, too, would carry out what I call a return to sanity and sound government. But as a political party, we Republicans, with all the width of our intra - party range of governmental philosophies, represent the only path open to restoration and firm maintenance of the individual liberties and governmental policies on which this nation has grown great.

In today's dangerous era, we enact legislation unconstitutionally, picking the citizen's pocket to finance big - government dream projects not only foolhardy, but vain; not only representing outrageous federal intrusion into each American's private life and constitutional rights, but constituting as well further heavy damage to our debt and tax-strangled economy. The government in office now spends with scant regard for legality and less for the haphazard purposes to which the money is applied.

The Democrats impose taxes on the imperial premise that government has an unlimited claim on all the wealth of all the people. At a time when our continued world leadership may well be at stake, we follow a makeshift, tax-and-spend economic course seeking to remedy one ill with no regard whatever for new economic ailments which the panaceas create.

I suggest that the need for limited government has never been greater than it is today, for the course of unlimited government is getting us into deep trouble. How do you stand, sir?

By VERNON LOUVIERE

Unions' Troubles

Congress Fight Seen To Put Them Under Anti-Trust Laws

American organized labor, in the throes of a bitter leadership fight and set back in its struggle to push a union shop arrangement in the bustling aerospace industry, can expect even more trouble when the new Congress convenes in January.

Without a doubt another and more vigorous campaign will be waged in Congress to place unions, just as business, under anti-trust laws.

It would prohibit collusion between different unions on wages and working conditions just as present law prohibits employer collusion on prices. In other words, no single union could force an industry-wide strike.

In the big AFL-CIO there is a show-down in the making between President George Meany and United Auto Workers Chief Walter Reuther over the filling of a vacancy on the executive council.

Reuther has thrown his support behind Ralph Helstein, president of the United Packing House Workers Union, and, in effect, placed his future on the block. Meany, on the other hand, has vigorously opposed Helstein because of alleged left-wing activities of his union. Meany and Reuther said they would resolve the dispute when Reuther returns from a tour of Japan.

The real test could come if one of these labor anti-trust bills is premitted to reach the voting stage.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

JOHNNY PODRES, ace pitcher of the Los Angeles Dodgers, is wooing chorine Mary Zahn of "No Strings" via long distance telephone calls . . . Government insiders have reason to fear that Algeria will pull a Cuba. Anybody who acts surprised hasn't been paying attention . . . Marty Ransahoff, whose Filmways

Co. has the top-rated TV series, "Beverly Hillbillies," is expanding his operations into motion pictures in New York as well as in Hollywood — and some of the hottest properties available are within his grasp. In addition, he's pulled quite a coup — enticing 20th Century-Fox's bright drummer, Jack Brodsky, to take charge of his advertising and publicity. Jack is distinguished for having lived through the "Roman Scandal" involving Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton when they were filming "Cleopatra," without losing a brother, James Roy Shivers of Swampers.

In just one year on Broadway, "How to Succeed" has grossed $3,900,000 — exactly 10 times its cost, which was $300,000 by the time it opened in New York . . . The Americana Hotel would have you believe that Keely Smith is opening there with a $40,000 wardrobe, which she is having toted in by her troupe of singers and dancers because she's afraid it might be lost or misplaced. (how about buying it insured? I'm perfectly willing to believe Keely has spent $40,000 on duds for her act, but I'd love to have a tape recording of her explaining THAT deduction to the Internal Revenue boys).

HORST BUCHHOLZ' manager and agent are groaning over Darryl Zanuck's decision to hold "Nine Hours to Rama" for Easter release. It eliminates Horst from this year's Oscar race. But Zanuck's probably right if the picture were released now, with Pandit Nehru in his strange predicament with Red China, it would have an Alice in Wonderland quality. In fact, it's hard to imagine how the film can ever regain the impact of the book, because current events have overtaken its message . . . The news papers should have the "black box scheme" in their headlines before very long. It's a method for detecting underground nuclear bomb tests.

Peter Glenville, the director, has stated . . .

Tony Bennett has been approached about starring in a New Year's Eve songfest at Philharmonic Hall in Lincoln Center . . . Goffredo Lombardo, the Roman film maker, reports that "Sodom and Gomorrah" is breaking boxoffice records in Italy. Thus encouraged, he plans to make another Biblical epic, "Noah's Ark," with a $20,000 budget . . . Mary Kaye and her brother Norman, of the Mary Kaye Trio, have made Kaye their legal name. Actually they started out as Miss and Mr. Kiahue, which is a big difficult for show biz use.

TRAIN RAMS ANOTHER LONDON (UPI) — A London subway train ran into the rear of another underground train near Victoria Station Thursday, injuring six passengers slightly and blocking traffic on the city's east-west line. Passengers on the two trains and three others stalled behind them had to walk along the tracks to the nearest station.

Peter Glenville, the director, has stated . . .

TITLE FROM THE VILLAGE NEW YORK (AP) — A blackboard scribble was the place where Edward Albee found the title for his hit drama, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

The playwright saw the phrase in a Greenwich Village bar which kept the blackboard available for patrons to write down anything they wished — within polite bounds.

Having decided the phrase had an off-beat quality appropriate to the script he was writing, Albee communicated with the husband of the late British novelist, Virginia Woolf, and received permission to use the name.

FILES DIVORCE SUIT*Actress Charges Habitual Adultery

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—American citizen, Mason is still a British citizen but has recently established residence in Switzerland, charging the British actor with "habitual adultery" for three years with three women.

The complaint, which amended a separate maintenance suit filed last June, did not identify the women.

The Masons have been married 22 years and, in movieland romance, once were considered one of Hollywood's most happily married couples. But their marriage has been stormy for the last three years.

Mason is 53, Pamela 46. They have two children—Portland, a precocious 13-year-old sometime entertainer, and Morgan, 7.

Mrs. Mason's complaint, filed in Santa Monica Superior Court, accused Mason of illicit relations with three "Jane Does—one in Malibú, one in the San Fernando Valley and one in Los Angeles." There were no other clues to their identity in the complaint, which also charged Mason with cruelty.

Mrs. Mason told the Associated Press, "I've been trying to make a reasonable deal with him—Mason—for a long time. He hasn't been supporting me or the children for over a year."

Mrs. Mason, who now stars in her own conversation-type television show in Los Angeles, formerly was a novelist. The attractive, dark-eyed blonde was born Pamela Ostrer in London. Her first husband, Roy Kellin, sued her for divorce about 21 years ago, naming Mason as co-responsible.

Mrs. Mason now is a naturalized

Receiver Takes Over Assets Of Judy Garland

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A judge appointed Reginald K. Wilson, a professional receiver, Friday to take charge of Judy Garland's assets in California.

The action was another round in the divorce court battle between Miss Garland and her estranged husband, Sid Luft, who claims the singer has concealed $2 million worth of community property. He asked for the receiver.

Neither Miss Garland, 39, nor Luft, 45, her long-time manager, were in court Friday.

Each has sued the other for divorce. But a California judge has warned Miss Garland that she may go to jail if she insists on proceeding with a Nevada divorce action begin Sept. 28. Luft, who filed for divorce in California on Oct. 5, claims the Nevada action is invalid because Miss Garland "is not an actual resident of Nevada."

The couple married June 8, 1952, and separated last March 31. They have two children. Miss Garland, formerly was married to composer-conductor David Rose and movie director Vincente Minelli. Luft formerly was married to actress Lynn Bari.

Six Navy Fliers Honored For Cuba Missions

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Six Navy fliers from the Jacksonville area who flew one of the first low-level photographic missions over Cuba have received the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The Navy said Friday the military decoration had been awarded in the name of the President by Rear Adm. Joseph M. Carson, commander of Fleet Air Jacksonville and naval air bases in the 6th Naval District, to the men for "extraordinary achievement in aerial flight."

Those receiving the cross were: Lt. Cmdr. James A. Kauffman of Jacksonville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Kauffman, of 29 E. Orchard Springs Dr., Dayton, Ohio; Lt. Cmdr. Ted T. Riley of Jacksonville, son of Mrs. Helen M. Riley of Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.; Cmdr. William Ecker, of Jacksonville, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Ecker, of 2208 Capital Ave., Omaha, Neb.

Lt. Gerald Coffey of Cecil Field, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coffey, of 1004 Rodgers Rd., Hamford, Calif.; Lt. Christopher B. Wilhelmy Jr., of 211 Llano Lane, San Antonio, Tex.; and Lt. (j.g.) John J. Hewitt Jr., of Cecil Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hewitt, Sr., of Blakely, Ga.

GI Insurance Dividends Will Average $61

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans who hold dividend-paying GI insurance will receive an average of $61 each in dividends for 1963, a Veterans Administration spokesman estimated Friday.

He said individual payments could range from less than $1 to more than $250, depending on the type and status of the policy.

The average for World War II veterans policyholders will be about $44 each for the regular dividend and other $18 in a special dividend, or an average total of about $62.

World War I veterans will get a regular dividend of about $60 each and no special dividend.

Going Fast

Sale of deer tags continues to be a booming business in Omachita Parish, with the number this year expected to exceed the 1961 total of 4,773.

C. D. Merleth, chief deputy in the parish tax office and civil department, said Friday that 3,515 deer tags had already been sold. The tags are being sold at several locations throughout the parish, and sales reports from these are expected to boost the total considerably.

First phase of the split season opened Friday in the parish and will end Sunday. Second phase of the total eight-day season will be Dec. 26-30.

West Monroe postal employee Ralph Whitlock's Thanksgiving got off to a less than favorable start Thursday.

A substitute clerk, Whitlock comes down in to on holidays, when most regular employees are off and opens up the post office. He's supposed to punch in at 5 a.m.

Well, he punched in Thursday and waited for the other to start arriving—and waited, and waited. Beginning to wonder, he finally checked a wall clock and realized, through a sleepy fog, his mental clock was running well over an hour ahead of time. It was just then 4 a.m.

Elected

Two Monroe educators were elected to offices this week at the annual convention of the Louisiana Teachers' Association in Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Katie Mae Zoll, principal of the Lakeshore Elementary School, was elected vice-president of the Elementary Principals' Unit of the Louisiana Principals' Association. James W. Parker, son of the speech department at Northeast Louisiana State College, was named executive secretary of the Louisiana Speech Association of the LTA.

Got One

Among the more successful deer hunters coming out of area woods is Robert H. Moore, 1003 McBride St. in West Monroe.

He bagged a nice sized spike buck early on the morning of opening day Friday in Union Parish.

He was more than tickled—it was his first deer.

Father Unsure Skelton Found His Daughter's

NEW CASTLE, Wyo. (UPI)—The father of long-time Compton Smith said Friday that the family dentist was uncertain whether a skeleton of a girl found in Arizona's Grand Canyon was his daughter who disappeared in Connecticut in 1952.

Peter Smith said that the skull of the girl was taken to Dr. Floyd D. Ward of Spearfish, N. D., for examination to see if he could identify the dental work he performed on Connie before she disappeared from Sloane Camp at Salisbury, Conn., in July of 1952.

"There was nothing definite," said Smith, son of former Wyoming Governor Nels H. Smith of Sundance. He added that Undersheriff Clark Cole of Flagstaff, Ariz., had taken the skull on to a Denver laboratory for further checks.

"Maybe more laboratories will be consulted," Smith said, "but now we aren't able to say anything positive."

FILES DIVORCE SUIT*Actress Charges Habitual Adultery

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Pamela Mason filed suit for divorce Friday against James Mason, charging the British actor with "habitual adultery" for three years with three women.

The complaint, which amended a separate maintenance suit filed last June, did not identify the men.

The Masons have been married 22 years and, in movieland parlance, once were considered one of Hollywood's most happily married couples. But their marriage has been stormy for the last three years.

Mason is 53, Pamela 46. They have two children—Portland, a precocious 13-year-old sometime entertainer, and Morgan, 7.

Mrs. Mason's complaint, filed in Santa Monica Superior Court, accused Mason of illicit relations with three "Jane Does"—one in Malibu, one in the San Fernando Valley and one in Los Angeles. There were no other clues to their identity in the complaint, which also charged Mason with cruelty.

Mrs. Mason told the Associated Press: "I've been trying to make a reasonable deal with him—Mason—for a long time. He hasn't been supporting me or the children for over a year."

Mrs. Mason, who now stars in her own conversation-type television show in Los Angeles, formerly was a novelist. The attractive, dark-eyed blonde was born Pamela Ostrer in London. Her first husband, Roy Kellino, sued her for divorce about 24 years ago, naming Mason as co-respondent.

Mrs. Mason now is a naturalized

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans who hold dividend-paying GI insurance will receive an average of $61 each in dividends for 1963, a Veterans Administration spokesman estimated Friday.

He said individual payments could range from less than $1 to more than $250, depending on the type and status of the policy.

The average for World War II veterans will be about $44 each for the regular dividend and other $18 in a special dividend, or an average total of about $62.

World War I veterans will get incomplete but will be under a regular dividend of about $60 rection of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

FLIGHTS TO MOON*Older Astronauts Not Ruled Out Yet

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Leroy will could make it difficult for Gordon Cooper Jr., the next U.S. them," Gilruth told a news conference, said Friday the original.

astronauts are not ruling themselves out of flights to the moon because of age.

"Individuals vary greatly in their aging," said Cooper, 35, the Air Force major selected last week to pilot an 18-orbit, 24-hour Project Mercury mission next year.

"The general feeling in the house is the 'older group,' will be very active right into the Apollo (moon) project," he said.

This brought agreement from astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., 38, America's first spaceman and Cooper's backup pilot.

"We're not counting ourselves out," Shepard said.

Both Cooper and Shepard said Friday practically all of Mercury's problems have been overcome since the 15-minute, 302-mile flight Shepard made May 5, 1961, over the Atlantic from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

"We have pretty well rattled all of the skeletons out of the closet," said Shepard.

Cooper said problems always exist but all the major ones have pretty well been solved.

The blue-eyed, brown-haired Cooper said he is very happy for the opportunity to make the 18-orbit flight. He said his being the sixth and last of the original seven to make a flight had not been dismaying.

A heart condition eliminated Maj. Donald K. Slayton's flight status and he now is serving as coordinator of astronaut activities.

"Some of the original seven are highly motivated to make the moon shot but the age factor very but it is primarily a realistic team effort," Cooper said. "Each astronaut has contributed to each succeeding flight."

Cooper said his mission's major objective will be extending man's time in space in preparation for Gemini flights of two weeks or longer.

"Each and every flight has contributed to this," he said. "Wally turned another large corner."

"Wally" is Walter M. Schirra Jr. who made a near perfect, six-orbit flight Oct. 3.

"My flight has the same objectives—extending man's time in space—with the ultimate objective of a flight to the moon," Cooper said.

Cooper said he and Shepard probably will start intensive training at Cape Canaveral in late January or early February.

Probe Starts Of Disaster In Maryland

Another early arrival at the crash site, Maryland state Senator James Clark, Jr., said there was no path of destruction cut through the woods as would have occurred if the plane had come down in a flatter angle.

"It was utter destruction," added Clark. "The debris was scattered over a large area. You couldn't really tell it had been a plane. There were pieces of metal and other things hanging from the trees."

W. Clark Gaither, who lives on a farm adjoining the fire-scarred woods, said he heard a "funny noise" from the Viscount's engines.

"Then there was an explosion," he said. "It jarred my house. When I got outside red flames were shooting 30 to 40 feet in the air above the trees."

W. S. Hebb of Baltimore said he heard the plane and noticed something was wrong with the engines.

"They were making a funny noise," he said.

Hebb estimated that the plane—flight 297—was at an altitude of about 1,500 feet when it went into a nosedive and hit the ground "like 20 sticks of dynamite going off."

Charles Cross, a truck driver, told reporters he heard the engines "fluttering and cutting in and out" just before the crash.

Such accounts pointed to some kind of freakish multiple engine failure, although the Viscount's Rolls-Royce engines by the Federal Aviation Agency's own statistics are rated the most reliable in aviation.

A Maryland state police official reported that two pieces of the plane's elevators were found about a quarter-of-a-mile from the crash scene. One of the Cab's prime targets will be to determine whether there was any kind of control failure. The elevators control an aircraft's up and down movements.

Some clues may come from the Viscount's flight recorder, recovered in mid-afternoon. A CAB official said it was hot and dent-ed, but appeared to be intact. The recorder should provide data on the plane's speed, altitude, directions but it is primarily a realistic team effort," Cooper said. "Each astronaut has contributed to each succeeding flight."

Cooper said his mission's major objective will be extending man's time in space in preparation for Gemini flights of two weeks or longer.

tion, impact forces and other information.

All CAB personnel were tight-lipped, as usual, and refused to speculate on any possible cause.

They were chiefly concerned with keeping sightseers out of the wreckage area to make sure no one carried away a single bolt. The Maryland Civil Air Patrol set up a 50-man cordon around the crash site, aided by Maryland state police.

The FAA said the control tower at Washington National Airport had cleared flight 297 for final approach from 10,000 feet, after giving Capt. M. J. Balog of Franklin Lakes, N.J., a slight change in heading.

At 12:24 p.m., FAA said, another heading change was ordered but the flight did not acknowledge receiving it. The plane then was observed going off the radar scope.

Local Residents' Father, Brother Dies Thursday

William H. Hughes, 84, of Mer Rouge, route one, died Thursday in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital after a four-day stay. He was related to two Monroe residents.

Mr. Hughes, the father of Mrs. Ruline Crow and brother of Ben Hughes, both of Monroe, was a native of Hughes Chapel, a community at White, Ark.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the Pine Grove Baptist Church with the Rev. J. E. Allen, pastor of the Bastrop Assembly of God Church, officiating. Interment in Pine Grove Cemetery will be under direction of Hixson Bros. Funeral Home of Monroe.

A prayer service is scheduled for 11 a.m. today at the funeral home.

Other survivors include three sons, Eulis Hughes, Shreveport, Jessie Hughes, Memphis, and Nathan Hughes, New Orleans; three daughters, Mrs. Lennie Boykin, Bastrop, Mrs. Jennie Kass, New Orleans, and Mrs. Effie Shockley, Mer Rouge; a sister, Julie Hughes, Bastrop; 17 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The True Story of Labor Racketeering and the National Crime Syndicate

THE RACKETS COMMITTEE OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE, of which Senator McClellan is chairman, has for more than five years been engaged in a bitter battle against criminals at all levels of our society, whether in labor unions or in great corporations, whether sleek, polished leaders of national crime syndicates or furtive, fly-by-night tinhorns who help their bosses extort upwards of 50 billion dollars annually from United States citizens. In this report of the committee's activities, Senator McClellan tells how some of the greatest labor unions in the nation were corrupted by conscienceless men, how racketeers prey upon honest businessmen, how criminal influences have become so wide-spread that they threaten the very future of our nation.

Senator McClellan takes you behind the scenes of the nationally televised hearings to give you the full picture of James Hoffa and Dave Beck, of the mammoth Teamsters Union, of the invasion of racketeers into many other unions, of the operations of the nation's top-level gangsters in the fields of labor and management.

This report of the committee's activities and findings does more, however, than tell a fascinating story: it sounds a warning to every citizen of this nation. It reveals in stark terms the national apathy which permits criminals to travel their evil pathways without stop or hindrance. It raises a question that must be answered: are the punishments, the penalties, to be exacted from the men who committed the crimes—or must they be visited upon the entire nation?

CRIME WITHOUT PUNISHMENT is important, vital reading for every United States citizen.

start, with each team recovering fumbles at midfield in the opening two minutes. Both teams fumbled three times and lost two of the bobbles during the game.

Neville quarterback Don Saget started what seemed like a passing war with Sessions right after the only Lumberjack score. On the only Lumberjack score, the Tiger pilot heaved a 62-yarder into the arms of All-Stater Howard. The play was nullified by a penalty.

The Tigers' 50 - yard scoring drive in the third quarter which sent Johnson across, was boosted by three consecutive one - play first downs. Pappas romped for 11 to the 39, Howard went for 10 more and Johnson followed it with an 18-yarder to the one. Three plays later he carried over.

PAPPAS TOPS

Pappas, the game's leading ground gainer with 82-yards on 15 carries, put the cap on a short 16-yard drive in the fourth period, after defensive end Gary Hart recovered a free ball at that point. Howard had punted from his own 40 and the Jack safety signaled for a fair catch. touched the ball and let it get away. Hart pounced on it.

Howard followed Pappas in rushing with 61-yards on 20 tries. Johnson was next with 56 in 12 carries.

Halfback Curt Guelzow, a defensive standout for the Tigers throughout the night, picked up 42-yards.

Springhill forced the Tiger offensive machine up the middle most of the night. Tough defensive ends and cornerbacks for the Jacks kept wide-sweeping Howard bottled up on his wide swings.

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Tommy Myers completed only four passes — all to halfback Paul Flatley and all for No. 1 ranking and then the Rose Bowl spot in successive lopsided losses to Wisconsin and Michigan. Spotted Miami a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, before their line began to crack the home forces in a once-glorious season.

Miami junior quarterback George Mira was dazzling in defeat, in a battle of celebrated quarterbacks before 60,341 in the Orange Bowl. The victory gave Northwestern a final season mark of 7-2, and left the Hurricanes with a 6-3 slate, with the Florida game left

14-7 at the half.

Fullback Steve Murphy bucked both touchowns across.

Speedy Wildcat halfback Dick McCauley recovered two mopped up Miami pitchouts in the third quarter and set up the next two Northwestern scores. He grabbed a pitchout, dropped by Miami halfback Nick Ryder on the second play of the third quarter on the Hurricane 18. Fullback Pete Stamison carried five straight times to the Miami 4, then kicked a field goal from the 12.

After McCauley covered another pitchout that went astray at the Northwestern 49 when Mira was jarred as he was throwing to Ryder, the Wildcats marched the 51 yards in 14 running plays for their third touchdown.

Stamison bullded over from the one.

Northwestern scored its final touchdown with reserve quarterback Fred Quinn moving the team.

Quinn carried the ball over him self from the six.

Miami's touchdown came on a 63 yard march the first time they got the ball. A Mira to Ryder pass for 22 yards to the Northwestern 3 was the key play.

Mira fired short bullet passes and lofted long ones, ran with the ball and often threw with a couple of Wildcats hanging on.

CROLE (Special) — Halfback Bob Lalande intercepted a Butch Wiggins pass in the third quarter to set up the winning touchdown and give South Cameron a slim 14-13 Class - B bi - district playoff victory over Vidalia in a bitter defensive struggle here Friday night.

Lalande returned his interception from the Vidalia 30 to the 25 and it took the South Cameron Tarpons 10 - plays to grind out 42-yards.

Springhill forced the Tiger offensive machine up the middle most of the night. Tough defensive ends and cornerbacks for the Jacks kept wide-sweeping Howard bottled up on his wide swings.

Guard Cliff Feduccia, tackle Wally Wallace, guard Alvin Frazier and Wiggins turned in particularly good defensive performances for a Viking team that made its best team effort of the season in the loss.

The needed yardage to score. Halfback James Albaro got the touchdown on a one yard plunge and made an all - important PAT to put the Tarpons in front 14-13.

LaLande, who paced the Tarpon attack along with bruising fullback Roland Trosclair, scored earlier on a 54 - yarder and the Tarpons went in front 7-6.

But Vidalia middle guard Wesley Sain blocked a Tarpon punt in the second quarter and linebacker Mike Greer caught it at the South Cameron 19 and went on to score. New ran over the extra point and the Vikings held a 13-7 halftime advantage.

The Vikings tallied in the first period when wingback Bill Poole intercepted an aerial by quarterback George Richard at the Vidalia 43. He ran it back to the Tarpon's 42 and the Vikings used 11 plays to march to the six-inch line where Poole plunged over. Fullback Mike New was DEQUINCY, La. (AP) — Quarterback Jimmy Virdine scored two touchdowns, including a 79-yard kickoff return, to lead Basile to a 20-6 victory over seventh-ranked DeQuincy in the first round of the state class A playoffs Friday night.

Basile, unranked in the final Associated Press poll, meets second-rated Ferriday at Basile in the semifinals next Friday night.

Clinton, 46-13

CLINTON, La. (AP) — Top-ranked Clinton smothered Lockport 46-13 Friday night to advance in the first round of Class B playoffs.

Paced by halfback Steve Stewart

Chaney's 22 points, Clinton rolled up a 46-point lead before Lockport scored.

Chicago's Bucky Bolyard all but ended the game on a pair of free throws to make it 9-8 with 15 seconds remaining. Then Kansas City's Gene Tormohlen sank a 60-foot shot for three points. A wild pass gave Kansas City the ball out of bounds with 8 seconds left, but Bill Bridges missed a 20-foot shot as the game ended.

IN NEW ORLEANS

Bowl-Bound Bengals Play Tulane's Wave

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana State, eyeing the Cotton Bowl and hopeful of improving its No. 8 rating, brings its once-beaten football team here Saturday to play winless Tulane in the season finale for both schools.

Oddsmakers have installed the Bayou Bengals a five-touchdown choice over Tulane, which has the longest losing streak currently going in the Southeastern Conference.

Tulane and LSU are traditional rivals. The Green Wave hasn't beaten the Tigers since 1948 and LSU has posted two 62-0 triumphs in the past four years.

Tulane's Tommy O'Boyle and LSU's Charlie McClendon both will be ending their first regular seasons as head coaches. They stepped up to the No. 1 spots at their respective schools after being assistants.

O'Boyle took over at Tulane when Andy Pilney quit under fire from a group of dissident alumni. McClendon inherited the job that Paul Dietzel, who produced one national championship for LSU, left to return to West Point.

A victory for McClendon would make him 1962's most successful rookie coach with an 8-1 mark. Only a 1-7 defeat by Mississippi and a 6-6 tie by Rice mars the Tiger record.

Tulane, playing one of the toughest schedules of any major college, has lost to Mississippi, Texas, Alabama and Georgia Tech all listed in the pre-season top ten — as well as Stanford, Mississippi State, Virginia Tech, Tennessee and Vanderbilt.

About 40,000 fans were expected for the 2 p.m. CST kickoff.

Hawks Stage Blitz To Route Pistons

DETROIT (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks staged a second-half blitz to swamp the hapless Detroit Pistons 121-93 Friday night in a National Basketball Association game.

Trailing 52-37 with two minutes left in the second quarter, the Hawks cut the margin to eight points 52-44 by the intermission and then went on to run the Detroiters off their home floor the rest of the way.

With Bob Pettit scoring 14 points and John Barnhill 11 during a third period bombardment, the Hawks soared to an 82-71 lead by the end of three quarters and coasted in. The victory was the Hawks' 12th in 18 games.

Pettit led all scorers with 35 points. Bailey Howell led Detroit with 28.

WITH KILBOURNE

Lion 5 Opens Slate Tuesday

Ouachita basketball coach L. J. Fontenot, in his first season as head of the Lions' cage squad, is in the process of rebuilding.

Only three lettermen and one starter are returning from last year's team. All three will have starting berths this season.

Ouachita kicks off its 1962-63 basketball game next Tuesday night against undefeated class B Kilbourne High School.

Coach Fontenot feels lack of experience and height may hamper this year's edition of the Lions. Last year Ouachita finished in the cellar of district 1-AAA.

The new mentor has installed a style of playing different from the type used last season and has been "well pleased" with the group's adaptation.

The Lions have been working out a little more than three weeks but still have another week before being put to the test.

Pivot man, Dennis Crawley, a junior this season, is one of the three returning lettermen and the tallest on the squad at 6-3. Absent from last year's team are Carl Guinn, Grady Hudson, Garland Shipp and Tommy Ramsey. All four graduated.

In addition to Edgar, the probable starters for the Lions this season include: James Edgar, a senior and the only returning starter, at guard and senior Jamie Hudson, the other letterman, at forward. Nickie Mirza, a junior is expected to start at the other guard slot and senior Darryl Barnes will hold down a forward position.

Three of the starters, Barnes, Edgar and Hudson, are 5-10 and Mirza is 5-11.

Sterlington, under the guidance of Coach Fontenot last year, finished second in district competition and ended with a 25-7 record.

In the reserves department, Coach Fontenot will have little height and a lot of youth to fall back on. Six foot, two inch Jack Trimble is the only senior on the squad and is expected to be called on during the season. Trimble is an addition to the team since the end of Ouachita's football season last Friday night.

Two sophomores, Mike Bishop, 5-9 and Elmer Smith, 6-1, also joined the squad since football ended.

Six juniors and five other sophomores are listed on Coach Fontenot's squad. Their heights range from 5-5 through 6-1. The majority of sophomore and junior reserves are under the 5-11 mark.

Carter's Lead Increased At Halfway Point

CHICAGO (AP) — Den Carter continued his bid for a fifth World's Invitational Bowling Title Friday by increasing his lead as the 16 men contestants in the $48,000 tournament reached the halfway point in their series of 16 four-game matches that run through Sunday.

Carter, the 1957-58-60-61 winner, won three games from Bob Strampe of Detroit while shooting 879 to finish eight matches and 32 games with 165.33 Petersen points. Carter has won 22 games and lost 10 while knocking down 7,183 for an average of better than 224 per game.

Moving into second place was the 1961 runner-up, Ray Bluth of St. Louis. Bluth won three out of four games from Jim St. John of Chicago with a 836 series. Bluth now has 161.16 Petersen points.

Dropping back into third was Billy Wells of St. Louis who totaled 760 in losing three games to Bill Bunetta of Fresno, Calif.

Carter beat Strampe, 234-180, 217-210, and 224-210, before losing the final game, 212-204.

The men's and women's finals are being conducted under the Petersen point system which awards a point for each game won plus additional points for every 50 pins knocked down.

In the women's division, also after eight matches of a scheduled 16 three-game affairs, the 1957 and 1960 champion, Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., continues to set the pace.

Mrs. Ladewig, 48, shot 643 in the afternoon to win two out of three games from Bobbie Shaler of Chicago. Mrs. Ladewig upped her point total to 112.11.

Judy Audsley, the 18-year-old Kansas City bowler, lost ground to Mrs. Ladewig although she won two out of three games from Joan Holm of Chicago. Miss Audsley now has 110.31 Petersen points.

In third place is Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, with 107.41 points.

Knicks Knock Nats Out Of First Place

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knicks knocked Syracuse out of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association by beating the Nats 116-110 Friday night before 11,095 at Madison Square Garden.

It was the Knicks' third straight victory and their first of the season against an Eastern Division club. It snapped a 3-game Syracuse winning streak.

Two second half spurts of 11 and 8 points in a row won for the Knicks.

The Knicks' 11 straight surge erased the Nats' 67-60 lead in the lead period and was part of a New York 18-4 spree that put the winners out front, 78-71.

The 8 straight points occurred midway in the fourth quarter after the Nats had rallied to within one point, 92-91.

Recent Bride Honored Prior To Wedding Vows

Final prenuptial courtesies were recently concluded prior to the wedding of Miss Anna Gretchen Williams and Sgt. David Claude Wiggins whose wedding was an event of November 17 at the Memorial Presbyterian Church, in West Monroe.

Commander and Mrs. H. E. Tull of New Orleans and Mrs. R. C. Mahaffey honored Miss Williams and Sgt. Wiggins with a buffet supper at the home of Mrs. Mahaffey on Friday, November 16, following their wedding rehearsal.

The bride-elect wore a black wool knit three piece suit with matching accessories.

Covering the buffet table was a white lace cloth, centered with an arrangement of pink mums, flanked by crystal candelabras. A floral bouquet of Bells of Ireland was noted on the mantel in the living room, while a matching bouquet graced the coffee table.

The couple chose this time to present their attendants with gifts.

Guests invited to share the party with the honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Williams, Mrs. Ida Mae Wiggins, Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Bradshaw, Miss Patti Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Zagone, Miss Cathy Wigley, Miss Shirley Smith, Ronnie Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hunt, Jim Williams, and Haskell Tull.

RICE BAG PARTY

Miss Cathy Wigley complimented Miss Williams with a rice bag party on Monday, November 12.

Centerpiece for the luncheon table was of colorful fall leaves.

Those attending the party were Miss Shirley Smith, Miss Betty McPearson, Mrs. Tommie LaFrance, the honoree and hostess.

CONVERSATIONAL HOUR

Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. Carl Riggan, and Miss Lynn Hamm were hostesses for a conversational hour on Friday, feting Miss Williams, in the Hamm home.

Miss Williams greeted her guests attired in a two piece winter cotton in tan and brown stripes, with brown accessories, accented by a corsage of white carnations.

The dining table was centered with an arrangement of pink roses, while pink chrysanthemums were featured in the living room.

The guest list included Mrs. Gene Hardin, Mrs. A. D. Hunt, Mrs. Mollie McAfee, Mrs. R. C. Mahaffey, Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt, Mrs. Ida Mae Wiggins, Mrs. J. H. Williams, Mrs. Faye Jackson and Mrs. Webb Goodlett.

LUNCHEON

A luncheon was hosted in honor of Miss Williams on Friday at the Frances Hotel. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. P. E. Walker, Mrs. H. M. Butler, Mrs. Carroll Edgar, and Miss Marion Moore.

Miss Williams wore a black wool suit with blue flowered overblouse.

Centerpiece for the luncheon table was an arrangement of white susanquas. The hostesses chose this time to present the honoree with a wedding gift.

Gregory Club Hostesses For Concordia HDC

The annual Achievement Day Program of the Concordia Parish Home Demonstration Clubs was held Monday at the Vidalia Community Club Center with the Gregor Club as hostess.

Rev. Abe Conery, pastor of the Vidalia Methodist Church, gave the invocation after Mrs. M. D. Dodd, president of the hostess club made the welcoming address.

Mrs. Glenda Byargeon, home demonstration agent of the parish, introduced the council officers and Mrs. J. Rayford Allred, council president, called for the year's activities report from each club. Mrs. Juanita Randall of the Friendship Club was in charge of the recreation period.

An arrangement of autumn leaves and flowers placed in a green pottery vase graced the center table overlaid by a green cloth, and holding a giant cornucopia of fruit, nuts, and autumn flowers.

Colorful fall leaves formed streamers on each table and were centered with salt and pepper shakers in fruit and vegetable form. Baskets and vases of flowers and leaves of many hues were placed at vantage points and branches of colored leaves dangled from the walls. A gift of crystal was given Mrs. Juanita Randall, outgoing president, by the council, and she was also given placed in the shape of a "U" with gifts by the individual clubs.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For 10 years I was married to a man who drank bourbon out of cough syrup bottles, lied a blue streak, and even took money out of my purse. I divorced him in 1958 when I discovered he was giving my clothes to his girl friend.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiance and I were engaged in September. We plan to be married in the Spring. We want to give Christmas gifts to relatives and friends and sign the card jointly. Is this considered correct? Thank you in advance for your answer. — HIM AND HER

DEAR HIM AND HER: Sorry, it is not considered proper for engaged people to send a gift "jointly." He should send something on his own, and so should you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter has become obsessed with the idea of having her nose remodeled. She is 17, a fine student, and normally a sensible girl.

Please believe me there is nothing wrong with Bessie's nose. It goes with her face. I've tried to point out to her that some of the most famous and successful people in history have had prominent features. Their faces had character and impact. People remembered them.

Four girls in Bessie's crowd have had their noses done. This is where she got the idea. All their noses look like they came out of the same mold. I'm afraid the operation would destroy her individuality. What do you say? — Q. T.

DEAR Q. T.: It's not what I say, or what you think that counts. It's how Bessie feels that matters.

If she is wildly eager, give her your blessings. The new nose may make her look less individual, but it could do wonders for her morale.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—and How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I know you strive to make your column accurate as well as entertaining, so please print this

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother is a health food fanatic, but I never thought my husband would get that way. Lately he won't let me give our children any candy, cookies, soft drinks or anything with sugar in it. He says sugar is pure poison. He won't let me use white flour or regular milk. He buys whole wheat and macaroni products. I used to serve well-balanced meals and we were all healthy. If this keeps up my husband will be just like his nutty brother. Don't tell me to talk to my family doctor. We don't have one. My husband doesn't believe in THEM, either.

GOING MAD

DEAR GOING: Your husband has gone off the deep end on a subject that has some merit. If you are interested in getting the facts, your local health department has scads of literature on nutrition.

Too bad you don't have a family physician. I think your husband needs one.

PARENTS OF THE GROOM

DEAR PARENTS: It is not proper to make a note of "No gifts" on the wedding invitations. Say nothing, and let your relatives use their own judgment.

DEAR ABBY: The day we moved into the Mobile Park, one woman immediately took me over. She called on me and gave me the rundown on everyone in the trailer court, and according to her, there is something wrong with all of them except herself. She has no friends here, and now no one

Mrs. Holcombe
Speaker For Woman's Club

Mrs. C. A. Holcombe, former chief probation officer of East Baton Rouge parish, spoke to the Oak Grove Woman's Department club Wednesday, on "Juvenile Courts of Louisiana." She emphasized the principle and purpose of these clubs; their principle being that all children brought before it are wards of the state to be helped and protected rather than punished. Their purpose is to stop the subjection of children to the procedure used in criminal trials. There is no publicity, cases are heard in closed chambers, files are kept locked.

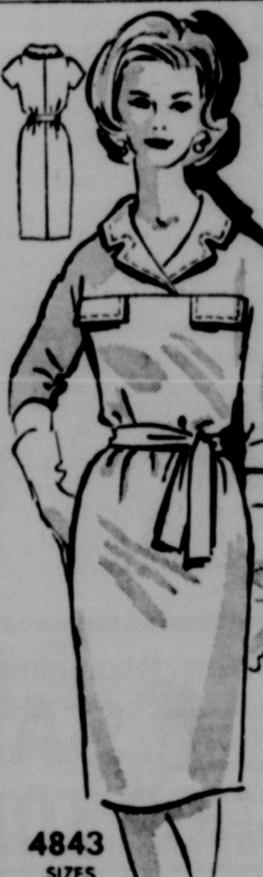

An unusual floral arrangement on the speaker's table was a tray of fresh fruit with a background of yellow garden chrysanthemums and variety mums. Members present were Mrs. Felix Anders, Mrs. B. F. Barron, Mrs. C. E. Busey, Mrs. J. R. Davenport, Mrs. P. A. Duwe, Mrs. G. K. Gay, Miss Ruth Gulley, Mrs. O. N. Hamilton, Mrs. Ruth Hankins, Mrs. John Kesler, Mrs. Adrian Lester, Mrs. W. O. Lynch, Mrs. Chester Malone, Mrs. C. C. McAlpin, Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. N. H. Clark, Mrs. C. L. Parker, Mrs. James Pichoff, Mrs. C. B. Pohlmann, Jr., Mrs. Azine Rush, Mrs. Earl Shivers, Mrs. Owen Suthards, Mrs. Helen Whitten, Mrs. Delia Myers, Mrs. Tom Brackett, Mrs. Helen Bradley, Mrs. W. L. Gill, two guests Mrs. Harry Pollard and Mrs. C. A. Holcombe both of Oak Grove.

Hints From Heloise'

DEAR HELOISE:
Would you tell us how to make a straw. Usually this has a little spoon-type gadget on the end of it. Take your scissors and cut this off . . . or leave it on. It makes no difference. In fact, a little spoon on the end directs the little bubbles in one direction!

Also tell us how we can utilize the suds that are left over as my little tyke usually loses his plastic bubble-blower, and also his interest in the sport about the same time.

THE THREE TYKES' MOTHER

DEAR MOM:
I'll give you the best recipe I have for the stuff! As far as I am concerned, the secret of good homemade bubble-blowing material is glycerine. And I have tried many recipes.

I have found that you can use some liquid detergent, pour it in a little bottle, add a teaspoon of glycerine, and drop or two of food coloring. Really the food coloring has nothing to do with the goodness of blowing a bubble; however, the kids seem to like the colored mixture.

Now, for that little lost plastic gadget . . . Have you ever tried an empty spool which thread comes on? Back in the old days, during the depression, this was all we had. One can dip the end of the spool into the bubble suds and blow on the other end.

Or, since these are modern times and straws are so cheap nowadays, a straw is a good substitute! If you will go to your dime store, I believe you will find what is known as a plastic

ELLIE

DEAR HELOISE:
I freshen my sponges with cut lemons that are left over from our iced tea.

I take the cut side of the sponges. Let this sit for about five to ten minutes. Then wash it in detergent suds. This seems to remove what causes the odor in the sponge.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For letter to set the record straight. 10 years I was married to a man — L. A. READER who drank bourbon out of cough syrup bottles, had a blue streak, for helping me keep the column and even took money out of my "accruals as well as entertainment." I divorced him in 1958 and I'm glad you wrote.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My clothes to his girl friend.

Our children are now 9 and 7 fiance and I were engaged in years of age. He didn't support September. We plan to be married when we were married and died in the Spring. We want to he doesn't send them anything give Christmas gifts to relatives now. I'm not complaining — just friends and sign the card jointly. Is this considered correct? Thank you in advance for your answer. — HIM AND HER

DEAR HIM AND HER: Sorry, it is not considered proper for engaged people to send a gift "jointly." He should send something on his own, and so should you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter has become obsessed with the idea of having her nose rights whatever and to stay away from him. My mother says it is girl morally wrong to keep a man from seeing his children, regardless of how rotten he may have been. What do you say? — FERN

DEAR FERN: If it took this guy four years to get lonesome for his children he must be a dark. Take your lawyer's advice. You need this man back in your life like Miami needs another hurricane.

Four girls in Bessie's crowd have had their noses done. This is where she got the idea. All their noses look like they came out of the same mold. I'm afraid the operation would destroy her individuality. What do you say? — Q. T.

DEAR Q. T.: It's not what I say, or what you think that counts. It's how Bessie feels that matters.

If she is wildly eager, give her your blessings. The new nose may make her look less individual, but it could do wonders for her morale.

From the records, Cat takes nap in rear seat of guest's car. Driver did not know cat was there. At a busy intersection cat jumps on back of driver. Result — serious collision. Owner of cat liable.

Cat runs in path of elderly woman, causing her to fall. Result — broken hip. Owner of cat responsible.

I know you strive to make your column accurate as well as entertaining, so please print this

Thursday Club*Entertained

By Mrs. Yerger

Among the recent bridge hostesses was Mrs. Andrew Yerger who entertained members of the Thursday club at her home at Mount, which was attractive with many seasonal flowers.

Mrs. Robert L. Bailey Jr., was winner of the high score prize. Mrs. A. L. Sevier Jr., second and Miss Alma Maxwell, low score. Others enjoying the games and salad course served at the conclusion were Mrs. Robert Todd, Mrs. Joe Milton Clark, Mrs. Maxwell Yerger, Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, and Mrs. J. E. Neill.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, the is 29, is being married for the second time. For his first marriage our relatives were very generous and his wife some lovely and costly wedding gifts. They were divorced two years later. He is being married in a church again to a lovely girl who has never been married. We do not want our relatives to go to the expense of buying wedding gifts for our son again. Is it proper to make a note of "No gifts, please" on the wedding invitations?

DEAR PARENTS: It is not proper to make a note of "No gifts" on the wedding invitations. Say nothing, and let your relatives use their own judgment.

DEAR ABBY: The day we moved into the Mobile Park, one woman immediately took me over. She called on me and gave me the rundown on everyone in the trailer court, and according to her, there is something wrong with all of them except herself. She has no friends here, and now no one

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For letter to set the record straight. 10 years I was married to a man — L. A. READER. DEAR READER: Thank you for helping me keep the column "accurate as well as entertaining." I divorced him in 1958 when I discovered he was giving my clothes to his girl friend.

Our children are now 9 and 7 years of age. He didn't support them when we were married and he doesn't send them anything now. I'm not complaining — just relieved that I no longer have to support him.

My wonderful mother makes her home with us now and we've never been happier or more solvent. I had not heard one word from my former husband until last week. He telephoned (collect) to say he's living in a rented room — sick and broke. He asked me to bring the children to see him.

My lawyer says he has no rights whatever and to stay away from him. My mother says it is morally wrong to keep a man from seeing his children, regardless of how rotten he may have been. What do you say? — FERN

DEAR FERN: If it took this guy four years to get lonesome for his children he must be a dard. Take your lawyer's advice. You need this man back in your life like Miami needs another hurricane.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thanks for your column. You have shown you can take constructive criticism, so here goes.

Your reply to "Miffed," in my opinion was incorrect. You said it was "cheap" of the guest to send a bill to replace the hosiery torn by her pet cat. A person is legally liable for damage or injury inflicted by their pets, whether it is $2.00 or several thousand dollars.

From the records: Cat takes nap in rear seat of guest's car. Driver did not know cat was there. At a busy intersection cat jumps on back of driver. Result — serious collision. Owner of cat liable.

Cat runs in path of elderly woman, causing her to fall. Result — broken hip. Owner of cat responsible.

I know you strive to make your column accurate as well as entertaining, so please print this.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For letter to set the record straight. 10 years I was married to a man — L. A. READER.

DEAR READER: Thank you for helping me keep the column "accurate as well as entertaining." I divorced him in 1958 when I discovered he was giving my clothes to his girl friend.

Our children are now 9 and 7 years of age. He didn't support them when we were married and he doesn't send them anything now. I'm not complaining — just relieved that I no longer have to support him.

My wonderful mother makes her home with us now and we've never been happier or more solvent. I had not heard one word from my former husband until last week. He telephoned (collect) to say he's living in a rented room — sick and broke. He asked me to bring the children to see him.

My lawyer says he has no rights whatever and to stay away from him. My mother says it is morally wrong to keep a man from seeing his children, regardless of how rotten he may have been. What do you say? — FERN

DEAR FERN: If it took this guy four years to get lonesome for his children he must be a dard. Take your lawyer's advice. You need this man back in your life like Miami needs another hurricane.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thanks for your column. You have shown you can take constructive criticism, so here goes.

Your reply to "Miffed," in my opinion was incorrect. You said it was "cheap" of the guest to send a bill to replace the hosiery torn by her pet cat. A person is legally liable for damage or injury inflicted by their pets, whether it is $2.00 or several thousand dollars.

From the records: Cat takes nap in rear seat of guest's car. Driver did not know cat was there. At a busy intersection cat jumps on back of driver. Result — serious collision. Owner of cat liable.

Cat runs in path of elderly woman, causing her to fall. Result — broken hip. Owner of cat responsible.

I know you strive to make your column accurate as well as entertaining, so please print this.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For letter to set the record straight. 10 years I was married to a man — L. A. READER who drank bourbon out of cough syrup bottles, had a blue streak, for helping me keep the column and even took money out of my "accurate as well as entertain- use." I divorced him in 1958 ing." I'm glad you wrote.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My clothes to his girl friend. DEAR READER: Thank you children are now 9 and 7 fiance and I were engaged in years of age. He didn't support September. We plan to marry them when we were married and tried in the Spring. We want to he doesn't send them anything give Christmas gifts to relatives now. I'm not complaining — just and friends and sign the card jointly. Is this considered correct? Thank you in advance for your answer. — HIM AND HER

DEAR HIM AND HER: Sorry, it is not considered proper for engaged people to send a gift "jointly." He should send something on his own, and so should you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter has become obsessed with the idea of having her nose reduced. She is 17, a fine student — sick and broke. He asked me to bring the children to see him.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My lawyer says he has no rights whatever and to stay away from him. My mother says it is girl.

Please believe me there is nothing wrong with Bessie's nose. It goes with her face. I've tried to point out to her that some of the most famous and successful people in history have had prominent features. Their faces had character and impact. People remembered them.

Four girls in Bessie's crowd have had their noses done. This is where she got the idea. All their noses look like they came out of the same mold. I'm afraid the operation would destroy her individuality. What do you say? — Q. T.

DEAR Q. T.: It's not what I say, or what you think that counts. It's how Bessie feels that matters.

If she is wildly eager, give her your blessing. The new nose may make her look less individual, but it could do wonders for her morale.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Networking and Putting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your reply to "Miffed," in my opinion was incorrect. You said it was "cheap" of the guest to send a bill to replace the hosiery torn by her pet cat. A person is legally liable for damage or injury inflicted by their pets, whether it is $2.00 or several thousand dollars.

From the records, Cat takes nap in rear seat of guest's car. Driver did not know cat was there. At a busy intersection cat jumps on back of driver. Result — serious collision. Owner of cat responsible.

DAILY CROSSWORD

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 11-24

ENGLISH • SPEAKING

NEW YORK (AP) — A permanent English-speaking theater in Paris is the aim of an organization headed by the Countess Paola de Rohan-Chabot.

Announcing the project, the countess said the purpose is to present "the best of culture from the United States and Great Britain" in the French capital.

For its first season, the group plans to do "Golden Boy," "The Children's Hour," "The Millionairess," "The Zoo Story," "Look Homeward, Angel," and "The Death of Bessie Smith."

Louisiana Farm Taxes Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Figures compiled by the Department of Agriculture show taxes on Louisiana farm real estate have more than doubled in the last 20 years.

But the statistics on farm real estate taxes show those in Louisiana still are only 30 percent of the national average.

In 1940, Louisiana farm property owners paid 31 cents per acre in taxes. This compares with 66 cents per acre in 1961.

During the same period, the average farm tax over the nation advanced 231 percent, from 39 cents per acre in 1940 to $1.30 per acre last year.

Total revenue derived last year from farm taxes in Louisiana was $6,800,000. The total nationally was $1.3 billion.
